NO. 303—SEVENTIETH YEAR

VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1928

TWENTY-FOUR PAGES

CHIEF MAQUILLA FOUNDERING IN MID-PACIFIC

NEARLY $1,000,000 IN NEW FACTORIES ESTABLISHED HERE

Building Activity for Greater Victoria Setting New Record With Many New Homes, Apartment Houses, Stores, Garages, Service Stations and Blocks Being Erected

Value of Construction to Date
Is $200,000 More Than in 1927

NEARLY $1,000,000 spent on new factories, more than $500,000 on new homes, nearly $200,000 on stores, garages and other business blocks, and nearly $200,000 on apartment blocks in Victoria, combined with an increase of over $200,000 in the general construction programme of Greater Victoria are only a few of the outstanding features of the eleven-month report made by building inspectors of Victoria and surrounding municipalities on building activity as compared with the same period of 1927.

Building permits for the eleven months of this year for Greater Victoria amount to $2,485,870 as compared with $2,214,973 for the same period last year. This is an increase of $270,897 over last year, despite the taking out of a permit for the new St. Joseph's Hospital wing amounting to $365,000 in the month of November, 1927. In Victoria alone the building permits issued show construction amounting in value to $1,604,442, as against a total of $1,517,405 for the corresponding period of last year. What is even more remarkable is that there should be an increase in the building permits in Victoria this year with so many large contracts let last year.

MANY NEW HOMES
One big factor in the building up of the city's permits was the $450,010 contributed by new homes erected this year. A total of 130 new residences have been erected so far. The average cost of the homes is $4,346 as against an average cost of only $3,200 last year.

Another factor that swelled Victoria's permit value was the number of factories established here, permits amounting to $239,000 have been taken out in the last eleven months for new industries.

Considerable activity has also been experienced in apartment house construction. Permits amounting to $171,300 have been issued by the city building inspector for this type of work during the last eleven months. New stores, garages, service stations and remodelling of downtown buildings have cost $163,250 so far.

Not only has the building trade been active in the city but the vital in construction has spread the surrounding municipalities.

OTHER MUNICIPALITIES
Saanich has this year felt such vitality in building as it has not experienced since the war. In fact municipal officials fully expect a set-war record for building to be established. To date a total of 20,408 in building permits have been issued as against $207,541 for a same period last year.

Esquimalt also shows a gain in construction programme. The permits show building amounting to $1,000 having been undertaken in a year, as against $44,000 for the corresponding period last year.

Oak Bay has been unable to overcome several large contracts let last year, but the figure for the eleven months of this year is not far behind that of last year, considering the fact that several beach hotels are constructed last year.

The permits for 1928 amount to $406,020, compared with $305,782 in 1927. It is the Beach Hotel and Seafront Hotel, however, the permits menudously, so that Oak Bay had leeway in overcoming last year's ord.

At Cenotaph Service on Armistice Day

WOULD REVEAL TO ALL LANDS B.C.'S WEALTH

Premier Tolmie Tells Hearers of Room for Immense Development in Province—Not Realized Abroad

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Naval disarmament came back to open discussion in the British House of Commons today. Three factors contributed to this. They were: The proposal by Fred A. Britten, of the Naval Affairs Committee, of the United States House of Representatives, that his committee and a committee from the House of Commons meet in Canada next March; the declaration of Viscount Cecil that Great Britain would meet the United States halfway, and an attempt by Sir Frederick Hall to get an official statement on naval policies by means of an interpolation today in the House of Commons.

A considerable section of the press and several publicists urged that Mr. Britten's proposal be accepted. They pointed out that, in addressing Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin direct, Britten had shattered all diplomatic precedents and had gone into official quarters with an unofficial project, but they argued that the plan was too good to lose because of technicalities. Several pointed out that Mr. Britten had pointed out a line of development which paralleled an idea expressed last week by Lord Lee of Fareham, who suggested that civilian representatives of each country could get farther and go faster than conferences of naval experts.

Viscount Cecil, who was closely associated with Woodrow Wilson in working out the idea of a League of Nations, was also present.

ROOM TO GROW
The fact that there were only 975,000 people in British Columbia, compared to the 6,000,000 or more in the neighboring states of the Union, indicated the room for development in the province.

Toy Dog Sells For $1,500 at Toronto Fair
TORONTO, Nov. 29.—The Grand Champion steer, Briarcliff Top Sergeant, shown by Briarcliff Farms, Plains, N.Y., was sold for $2,027.20 at the Royal Winter Fair cattle auction sale today. The beast weighed 1,120 pounds and brought $1.81 per pound.

A tiny pomeranian, owned by Mr. J. T. Waggitt, Clarkson, Ont., was purchased by Mrs. A. L. Heinemann, Lockport, N.Y., for $1,500. The dog was declared the best toy dog in the show.

RADIO MESSAGE SAYS STEAMER SINKING; AID STILL DISTANT

Shortly After Midnight Wireless Operator on Ss. President McKinley Reports Chief Maquilla Going Down—Nearest Vessel Still Two Hours From Scene

Earlier Advices Stated Rescue Ship Standing By

Message From Chief Maquilla Had Reported—Engine-Room Flooded Pumps Useless, Lifeboats Washed Away and Hatches Stove In—Salvage King on Way

SEATTLE, Nov. 30.—The freighter Chief Maquilla was foundering in mid-Pacific, with the first of seven rescue vessels due to arrive at her side about 2 o'clock this morning, the radio operator of the liner President McKinley advised the Seattle Harbor Radio early this morning. The Montreal Maru had wirelessed the McKinley that she will be in that position at 2 a.m. and the steamship Atlantic City said it would arrive at 9 o'clock in the morning, the operator reported. He could not locate the position of the Yogen Maru, previously reported as standing by the stricken craft.

Radio advices received here at 8 o'clock tonight said that one of the six vessels rushing to the assistance of the helpless British freighter Chief Maquilla had reached the stricken craft and was standing by. The Chief Maquilla, formerly the M. S. Dollar, will probably be towed to Dutch Harbor, Alaska.

The 8 o'clock radio advices presumed that the Japanese steamer Yogen Maru was standing by, although previous messages placed the steamer Montreal Maru, fifty miles closer to the Maquilla.

A message from the Chief Maquilla, reported in distress early this morning, picked up by the Seattle Harbor Radio late today, said the engine room was flooded, the starboard lifeboats washed away, and the starboard bunker hatches stove in. An earlier message from the Montreal Maru said that at 2 p.m. she was 100 miles from the stricken vessel. Three other ships were also rushing to give aid.

SOS CALLS
The Chief Maquilla was apparently in distress at an early hour this morning off the American coast. The nature of the distress was not definitely known.

Distress calls were heard between 4:30 a.m. and 5 a.m. by the Marine Radio at Everett and the Seattle Harbor Radio.

Built as the N.Y.K. No. 1 in 1917 at Kobe by the Kawasaki Docking Company, Limited, the Chief Maquilla was afterwards named the War King and later the M. S. Dollar. She is a steel twin-screw steamer of 6,919 tons net. Her length is 475.5 feet, breadth 61.2 feet, and depth 30.1 feet. She is registered at Vancouver, B.C., and holds Lloyd's highest rating. She carried eight British officers and a crew of thirty-two Chinese.

SALVAGE KING LEAVES
The Pacific Salvage Company's Ss. Salvage King, the most powerful vessel of her type on the Pacific Coast, left Victoria for the scene of the disabled ship at 11 o'clock last evening.

The following message was received by the chief operator at Everett from the Ss. Chief Capilano, one of the freighters of the same line as the Chief Maquilla, and forwarded to Mr. E. J. H. Haughton, division superintendent of the Government radio service:

"Atlantic City and Montreal Maru proceeding Chief Maquilla. Engine room flooded thirteen feet. Starboard bunker hatches stove in. Forward cargo gone. List to starboard fifteen degrees and ship completely out of control. Ask vessels stand by. Position, Latitude 51.30 North, 75.25 West."

Derating Bill Costs Treasury Immense Sum
LONDON, Nov. 29 (Cable).—The House of Commons tonight approved the financial resolution in connection with the local Government bill. The vote was 280 to 122. The money will be used for reimbursement of municipalities as a result of the application of the Government's derating proposals under the local government bill. The bill reforms municipal taxation, removing taxation from agricultural lands and buildings and industrial and transportation properties.

The additional cost to the Exchequer in the first year is estimated at more than $20,000,000 and grants already made total $150,000,000.

Chew Leong Sing Gains Acquittal on Charge Of Attempted Murder
CHEW Leong Sing, twenty-three years old, was freed yesterday on a charge of attempting to murder Wong Lim on February 5, 1923, the charge arising out of a pistol battle between Chinese at the corner of Herald and Douglas Streets. The petit jury at the Criminal Assizes, which was trying the case, returned a verdict of "Not guilty" after deliberating for over three hours.

The trial of Chew Leong Sing opened on Monday morning last, and occupied the whole of four days. The accused was tried on the same charge last March at the Spring assizes, when the jury disagreed. The case on that occasion was transferred to the present assizes, requiring Chew Leong Sing to stand trial a second time.

Mr. Stuart Henderson, counsel for the accused, yesterday addressed the jury for an hour and forty minutes; Mr. W. H. Bullock-Webster, Crown prosecutor, spoke for half an hour, and Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald, in charge to the jury occupied forty minutes.

PRISONER DISCHARGED
When the jury brought in its finding, His Lordship discharged the prisoner, and complimented the various cases which had come before them for their consideration.

Chew Leong Sing was the second Chinese to be tried in connection with the wounding of Wong Lim in a shooting affray that took place in front of the Hudson's Bay Building last February. Lee Lim, who gave evidence on behalf of Chew Leong Sing, was charged to the jury occupied forty minutes.

Mr. Turner Wins Championship at B.C. Winter Fair
VANCOUVER, Nov. 29.—Murray Turner, of Cadboro Bay, B.C., won the champion fat steer at the Winter Fair, Hastings Park. It was a fine animal that won the premier honors, but the reserve champion steer owned by Joe Bulman, of Westwood, B.C., ran the champion a close second. McKenzie Brothers, of Lacombe, Alta., won the exhibition special for the champion animal of the show.

Civil Servants Not To Take Civic Office
OTTAWA, Nov. 29.—The question of whether civil servants may become members of the city council, or board of control, was raised here when one civil servant, W. C. Rowe, of the Department of National Revenue, this week had to drop out of the contest for controller because of a ruling in his department against any employee receiving a salary of over $1,500 a year taking any other position. On the other hand C. J. Tully, of the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior, has served as controller for several years.

TRADE INCREASING
OTTAWA, Nov. 29.—For the twelve months ending October 31, Canada's trade with the United Kingdom advanced nearly $50,000,000. Canadian trade with the United States increased by $123,731,817.

REVIVED HOPE FOR RECOVERY OF KING FELT

time to join the Prince of Wales hospital, which has been sent him asking for his plans. It is believed that it may be found quicker for him to travel home via Capetown. The journey from Aberdeen to Capetown would occupy four days.

LANCET STATEMENT

The leading English medical journal, The Lancet, will review tomorrow the progress of the King's illness, and incidentally dispel the idea that it occurred through a sudden onset. The Lancet will say that for several days prior to the issuance of the latest medical bulletin, His Majesty had not been in his usual health, although he continued to carry out his official engagements. Then, dealing with the illness, the Lancet will say that the return of high fever last Sunday resulted in sleeplessness and discomfort, and the public was warned that a further spread of pleurisy might be expected. Up to the present, however, there had been no change, but a certain amount of rest had been secured, and this is of great importance.

CONCLUSION REACHED

Reading the bulletins as showing a curtailment of the force of the infection, The Lancet concludes: "At the same time it would be idle to pretend that an illness of this kind is not serious for a patient over sixty. The official bulletins have been informative, though restrained, and medical men reading them can form a picture of the illness and its course. Everyone will earnestly hope they may give increasing confidence in His Majesty's recovery."

TRADES COUNCIL'S MESSAGE

LONDON, Nov. 28 (Canadian Press Cable).—The feeling of English workmen for their sovereign in his illness are shown in a resolution passed by the general council of the Trades Council yesterday. It expressed deep regret for the King's illness and sincere wishes for a speedy and complete recovery.

J. H. Thomas, former Secretary of State for the Dominions in the MacDonald Labor Government, in a speech in London last night, declared:

"In this great hour of trial there is no class in the community sadder in its desire for the King's speedy recovery than the great body of the working class."

in this country, the speaker said. There are not more people here simply because "they do not know about us," he added.

EAST AND WEST CANADA

What Canada required, said the Premier, was to see the publicity of East and West pushed in both directions.

"We ought to understand more about each other," he said. "We can never attain our best success in Canada until this is done."

The Premier expressed the belief that the wider the outlook and the broader the viewpoint, the farther would a campaign for progress carry the country.

He agreed with the expression of Premier J. E. Brownlee, of Alberta, he said, that the provinces should know more about each other and learn to trade with one another.

"We need to send speakers East," he said, "and they ought to send their men to us, that we might get closer together. It would give advantages to all of us, and a greater trade to the West."

W. J. Blake Wilson and Mr. W. C. Shelly, Minister of Finance, spoke briefly. The minister hoped, he said, that Vancouver could spend $100,000 on publicity and advertising in 1929.

HE ISN'T CONSTIPATED ANY MORE

Thanks to Kellogg's wonderful ALL-BRAN

Mr. Grinslade wrote of his own accord, to tell us how much he valued ALL-BRAN in relieving constipation.

"Just a few words to let the company know what Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has done for me. I have been constipated for several years until I went to Kellogg's PEP and ALL-BRAN. I am now rid of constipation and it is all due to the use of your products, and I will recommend it to anyone that is bothered with constipation."

Yours truly,
H. M. GRINSLADE
(address sent on request)

Constipation is a dreadful thing. It undermines health. It steals happiness. Throbbing heads, aching backs, spots before the eyes, bad complexion are just a few of its telltale symptoms.

Don't let it get in its deadly work on you. Forget your constipation. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to prevent and relieve constipation. A health cereal—ALL-BRAN is made from bran. Doctors recommend it. Delicious with milk or cream, or with fruit or honey added. Eat two tablespoons daily—chronic cases, with every meal. Use in cooking. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Poor old George Grinslade had tried his hand at all kinds of different jobs, but little success had come to him.

At last he tried the railway, but even there he turned him down, and George came out from the examination room and told his pals that he was color blind.

"But you ain't," insisted a staunch ally. "No more'n I am!"

"It's just because I was too polite," said George.

They all looked puzzled.

"Well," explained the rejected one, "a man held up something for me to look at. 'Come,' he says, 'this is green, isn't it? You're sure it's green?'—quite plain! An though I see it was red, I couldn't tell 'im so, so I says 'Yes,' and they says, 'Steady, but we're afraid you won't do,' and bundled me out."

of Nations, aroused much comment by advocating mathematical equality in the British and American navies "in tons and guns."

PREMIER'S REPLY

Premier Baldwin would not be "smoked out" when he replied to Sir Frederick Hall's question in the House.

The inquiry was whether, as a preliminary to further discussion of naval armaments by the League of Nations, the Government would consider asking France and the United States to participate in a conference with Great Britain, in so far as the problem concerned the three countries.

Mr. Baldwin replied that the Government was carefully considering what steps could usefully be taken to promote an agreement with regard to further naval limitations. He added:

"I doubt whether the specific expedient proposed by my honorable and gallant friend would be likely to attain the object which he evidently has in view."

Lake Ontario Clash

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Nov. 29.—One man was shot dead and another wounded on Lake Ontario, near Fort Niagara early today, in a clash between coastguards and a launch which the Federal authorities had ordered seized on sight.

Carl Anderson, thirty-four, retired owner of the launch, was killed. His home was in Lewiston, Edmund Sahr, twenty-four, Niagara Falls, was wounded.

U.S. MINISTER LAUDS EMPIRE

THANKSGIVING DAY BANQUET IN MONTREAL

Sympathy Expressed With Anxiety for King's Health—Grateful Reference to Canada

MONTREAL, Nov. 29.—The people of the United States, said the Premier, were many causes for thankfulness and none for which we should be more grateful than for the continued friendship of Canada and the United States, declared William Phillips, United States Minister to Canada, at today's Thanksgiving Day banquet.

He said: "Our sympathies this evening carry us across the Atlantic to the silent multitudes gathered about the gates of Buckingham Palace, and our prayers are joined with theirs."

Canada's first Thanksgiving service was held on Thursday, January 10, 1790, to celebrate the great naval victory of the British over the Dutch fleet.

Canada was still thinking in terms of Empire, and "we have only to remember the year 1914, to realize that the spirit of 1790 is stronger than ever today."

"We Americans rejoice that this is so, for we are well aware that the British commonwealth of nations stands for peace and progress throughout the world," the United States minister said.

He referred to the fact that he had during the last year visited every province of the Dominion. Everywhere, he said, "I have been received with that true hospitality which is ingrained in the hearts of Canadian people."

FAIR TOO POLITE

Poor old George Grinslade had tried his hand at all kinds of different jobs, but little success had come to him.

At last he tried the railway, but even there he turned him down, and George came out from the examination room and told his pals that he was color blind.

"But you ain't," insisted a staunch ally. "No more'n I am!"

"It's just because I was too polite," said George.

They all looked puzzled.

"Well," explained the rejected one, "a man held up something for me to look at. 'Come,' he says, 'this is green, isn't it? You're sure it's green?'—quite plain! An though I see it was red, I couldn't tell 'im so, so I says 'Yes,' and they says, 'Steady, but we're afraid you won't do,' and bundled me out."

Sing in the latter trial, was convicted at the Spring Assizes on charges of attempted murder and taking part in an affray, and is now serving a fifteen years' sentence in the penitentiary. It is likely that efforts will be made by Mr. Henderson, who was counsel for Lee Lim, to obtain a new trial for Lee Lim.

CHARGES JURY

Mr. Justice Macdonald, in his charge to the jury in the Chew Leong Sing case, said that the accused was charged with attempted murder and with participating in an affray. His Lordship, quoting Section 264 of the Criminal Code, stated that everyone was guilty of an indictable offence who, with intent to commit murder, by any means whatever, wounds or causes any grievous bodily harm to any person, or shoots at any person, or by drawing a trigger, or in any other manner attempts to discharge any person any kind of loaded arms. Also any person who takes part in an affray, that is the act of fighting in public street or highway or fighting to the alarm of the public in any other place to which the public have access, was guilty of an indictable offence.

His Lordship instructed the jury that if it felt that the evidence so justified it could return a verdict against the accused of wounding or causing grievous bodily harm to a person, instead of a finding of attempted murder.

The court said it was not necessary for the Crown to show that the accused actually shot Wong Lim, if there was in this case a common intention to attack or shoot at Wong Lim by three persons or less, it did not matter which one of the parties fired the bullet which wounded Wong Lim. The parties might be prosecuted jointly or severally.

BURDEN OF PROOF

"Bear in mind," His Lordship told the jury, "that the innocence of the accused is presumed, and the burden of proof is upon the Crown. A person on trial is presumed innocent until proven guilty. The Crown has the burden of establishing the truth of the facts to a reasonable and moral certainty. Remember that if there is a reasonable doubt in your mind as to the guilt of the accused, that doubt must be given in favor of the accused."

The question of the guilt of the accused is for you to determine. You are the sole judges of the facts and inferences."

His Lordship said that the Crown had to prove that the accused was guilty of attempted murder or of taking part in an affray. During the hearing nearly forty witnesses were examined, twenty being called by the Crown and the balance by the defence.

The jury which found Chew Leong Sing not guilty of attempted murder or of taking part in an affray, was composed of the following: Mr. Albert R. Nex (foreman), William Woolcock, John Albert Oddy, Albert H. Davies, William R. Yule, Frederick J. Popham, Frederick Neaves, Charles W. Jordan, William Woolcock, William Stirling, Percival E. George and James Robert Flett.

Premier Dines ON U.S. DINNER

MR. AND MRS. BALDWIN ATTEND TYPICAL THANKSGIVING DAY BANQUET

Ambassador Houghton on Friendly Relations Between Britain and United States

LONDON, Nov. 28.—Premier and Mrs. Stanley Baldwin were guests of the American Society at a Thanksgiving Day dinner here tonight. A gathering numbering 100, which included Ambassador Houghton and Mrs. Houghton, ate a real American dinner, with turkeys from President Coolidge's farm in Vermont, cranberries from Cape Cod and corn from South Carolina. Ambassador Houghton, proposing a toast to the "Day We Celebrate," said the United States had reason to be thankful because the fundamentally friendly relations of the British and American peoples continued unimpaired.

Mr. Houghton said: "We have additional reason to be thankful that the King seems to be now showing indications of recovery. We hope and pray for his complete recovery."

MODEST SUGGESTION

Premier Baldwin opened his speech with a statement that it is a pleasure to be invited to dine with the American people on this day.

In a long appreciative reference to American literature, the Premier recalled the story in the autobiography of Benjamin Franklin of how the Quaker refused the request of a brother Quaker during public worship to lend him money for the collection on the ground that the Quaker seemed not to be in the right mind.

"May I suggest to the Ambassador that any request to America for loans for armaments should receive that same answer?" Mr. Baldwin asked.

ALL THE REST GONE

A young married lady had just acquired a new car and a new chauffeur to match.

"John," she said, one day, "we will drive out to make a few calls. But I shan't get out of the car, you will, therefore, take the cards that are on my dressing-table and leave one of them at each house we stop at."

"Very good, ma'am," answered John, and he ran upstairs to fetch the cards.

After they had driven about for some time, and cards had been left at a great number of houses, the lady remarked:

"Now we must call on the Dalms, the Framptons, and the Grahams."

"We can't do it!" here broke in the chauffeur, in alarm. "I've only one set of spades and the ten of clubs left!"

WORSE THAN EVER

A certain actress, though married and long past her first youth, made up so wonderfully that she looked no older than eighteen.

A young man who had often watched her from the stalls sought out the stage manager and asked for an introduction to the lady.

"I'm sure she's as charming and sweet of the stage as she is on," he remarked.

"She's all that," agreed the manager cordially—so cordially that a fearful suspicion flashed into the youth's mind.

"I say, you're not her husband, are you?" he stammered.

"No, no, no!" said the manager. "I'm her son!"

HIS MAJESTY

Anxiety is intense throughout the Empire to learn the course which the illness of His Majesty will take. The King has won a place of the highest regard in the hearts of the people overseas as well as in the Homeland of the British race. His deep sympathies for all problems of his people, his great tact, his discernment, his royal conception of royal duties, in an age of democracy, and his sportsmanship are gifts which have endeared him to all who realize what he has made of sovereignty. The prayers of an Empire are being offered up for his recovery and they come from the hearts of millions.

CANADA'S BIG PROBLEM

There is something radically wrong in the fiscal administration of a country such as Canada when more people have left the Dominion than have entered during the period from 1919 to 1927. This constitutes what Professor Duncan McArthur, editor of Queen's Quarterly, describes as a serious national problem. In fact he believes that the issue now confronting the country is that of keeping her immigrants, a problem which the present Government at Ottawa has been notably deficient in solving. Professor McArthur shows that the census of the three prairie provinces taken in 1926 "provides the latest data regarding the movement of our immigrants." During the five years, 1921-1925, the total immigration to the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta was 179,312. In 1926 only 90,486 of this immigration remained in these provinces, a shrinkage of 50 per cent.

The editor of Queen's Quarterly says that an examination of emigration statistics indicates the movement of people to Canada, and from Canada to Great Britain and Ireland and to the United States. The following is the table of the years from 1919 to 1927:

Year	Immigration to Canada	Emigration from Canada to U.S.	British Isles
1919	57,702	124,136	34,435
1920	117,336	109,123	24,341
1921	148,477	59,563	21,055
1922	89,999	81,910	16,197
1923	72,887	158,850	12,498
1924	148,560	159,058	16,158
1925	111,362	85,757	14,214
1926	96,069	93,468	10,481
1927	143,991	81,506	12,570

From the foregoing Professor McArthur says it will be seen that during those years our emigration to the United Kingdom and the United States has exceeded our total immigration, and that from 1919 to 1926 the emigration to the United States was in excess of the total of new immigrants. The immigration problem is thus one of keeping immigrants more than of getting them. Needless to say he recognizes the shortcomings of the Federal Government in the problem. "Our supreme need," he says, "is a more careful adjustment of immigration to economic and social conditions in our country. We have suffered from a condition of chronic indigestion of immigration; we should be placed on a rigid diet both respecting the quantity and the quality of immigrants we take into our system. A serious effort should be made to determine our capacity for assimilating both agricultural and industrial workers, for there are indications that our next expansion will be industrial in character. If we are to keep our immigrants we must give them profitable employment. Labor cannot be employed without capital; labor and capital will not be united unless there is a profitable market for the product. The immigration problem is fundamentally a problem of capital and of markets, and until it is approached as such it will not be solved. The conservation of our own resources of capital by the reduction of taxation, Federal, provincial and civic, will contribute more to its solution than most of the half-baked proposals now being made to flood the country with immigrants."

ST. ANDREW'S DAY

The Scot in the scheme of Empire is first of all Scottish. As long as there is a Scot, there will be a reality of nationalism. There is no heart in which the throbs of patriotism is more insistent; the further the heartstrings are stretched the stronger is the pull towards the Homeland. Yet, withal, the Scot makes the best of settlers in the Overseas Dominions, and in foreign countries as well. It is because he is Scottish that he is so fine a citizen of Empire and of the world.

Today is the natal day, the national festival of the Scottish race. It may be true that St. Andrew is as a patron saint one of another race. St. Andrew suffered martyrdom on the cross in Achaia in A.D. 69 and it was not until 740 that he became Scotland's patron saint. The only way to account for such honor having been done to his memory is that some true relic of his, in the centuries past, must have been brought to Scotland's shores from Palestine. In any case it was upon the rock of St. Andrew that Scottish nationality was founded and the foundation stone is unshakable.

Scotland has the proud distinction of never having been conquered. It was because Scotland beat England at Bannockburn that a Union was established. The people were united and the document which consummated the Union was the Treaty of 1707 which decreed that the United Kingdom should be represented by one Parliament to be called the Parliament of Great Britain. Scotland was not annexed, not conquered, not coerced. In the Union neither England nor Scotland is greater nor less than the other. The fact of the equality is symbolized in the word "Britain."

Prior to 1606 Scottish and English ships flew the crosses of St. Andrew and St. George, respectively. In that year the two flags were merged in one. The Union Jack became the flag of the Navy, and for a time, that of the Merchant Marine as well. In 1634 it was limited to the Navy alone; the flags of St. Andrew and St. George being assigned to other ships. In 1801 the Cross of St. Patrick was added to the Union Jack. In 1804 the White Ensign became the naval flag. One omission in the symbolism of flags, of which today is a reminder, is that Scots' regiments should display the Silver Saltire of St. Andrew as Englishmen fly the flag of St. George.

For the Scottish race this anniversary is a day of proud memories which is honored wherever there are Scotsmen. It is a day for commemorating that clanish patriotism which has been an asset of such high worth all over the globe. The Scots are leal and true; dour and brave; with a ballast of common sense which is at once the envy and admiration of other races. They believe in themselves, are sure of themselves and live up to their traditions. In doing all this they provide an object lesson to humanity in characteristics among the highest which any race can possess.

"A university," said Disraeli, "should be a place of light, of liberty, and of learning." That is, in effect, what its name implies. The mission of this university of higher education is largely being lost sight of in these days, especially in the case where universities are established to belong to some particular locality, in which they are regarded as existing to foster research through which the leading local industries benefit. This aspect of what might be termed "parochial universities" is drawn attention to by the Bishop of Ripon writing in The Universities Review. He says: "A university should be the antithesis of a technical college, or a vocational school; a place where the sense of 'the whole' dominates the parts, and every sort of study can be prosecuted by every type of mind. But how can a plethora of local universities hope to achieve the broad and even cosmopolitan spirit which the mediaeval universities especially fostered, when at Oxford or Paris or Bologna, students of all regularly met? How, above all, are adequate staffs to be provided all round—adequate not merely as researchers in, and teachers of, their subjects, but as having themselves the distinctive university outlook and the power to pass it on to others?"

Mr. J. A. Brady, The Federal Member for Skeena, was misreported in dealing with immigration matters at the Girls' Central School on Monday evening, when he spoke on behalf of Mr. D. B. Plunkett. What he said was that the present Liberal Government at Ottawa, since it went into power, had spent $55,000,000 altogether to bring immigrants to Canada, not $55,000,000 annually, which, of course, would be a fabulous sum. The speaker, however, explained, too, that the money was being wasted, since, under the Liberals, Canada has been losing population at a rate equal to or greater than she gained in immigration.

THE VICTORIOUS DEAD

"There's but one gift that all our dead desire.
One gift that men can give, and that's a dream
Unless we, too, can burn with the same fire
Of sacrifice, die to the things that seem."

"Die to the little hatreds, die to greed.
Die to the ignoble selves we knew."
Die to the base contempt of sect and creed;
And rise again, like these, with souls as true;

"Nay (since they died before their task was finished):
Attempt new heights, bring even their dreams to birth.
Build us that better world, O, not diminished
By one true splendor that they glimpsed on earth."

"And that's not done by sword or tongue or pen, There's but one way. God make us better men."
—Alfred Noyes.

NOW IN THE RANKS

Officers who inspect parades of the British Legion should be careful to know their men before asking questions. In this connection there was an amusing incident at a parade of the Berkshire branch of the British Legion at the Royal Military College, Sandhurst. The commandant went down the line of "old sweats" on parade and came to one who wore the V.C. "Where did you get that, my man?" was asked. "In South Africa, sir," was the reply. "What is your name?" The V.C. repeated a name which apparently conveyed nothing to his questioner. "Ah," said the commandant, "and what was your rank?" "General, sir," smartly replied the legionnaire. A little further down the line the commandant stopped in front of a man wearing a double row of medals. "What rank did he hold in the service?" "Admiral, sir," replied the veteran.—"Mr. Gossp." Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Herbert Hoover, victorious candidate in one of the most spectacular and most one-sided presidential elections in the political history of the United States, is in South America. Mr. Hoover was given an "ovation" by a great course of admirers as he stepped aboard the warship which carried him to the Southern Continent. On the Sunday Mr. Hoover left for the defeated candidate for the presidency, enjoying a vacation in the State of Mississippi, attended service in the Church of the Nativity, in a city or a village few people who are not familiar with the geography of the State ever heard of. The defeated candidate was not given a tumultuous reception as he stepped from his motor car to enter the church. He was met by the pastor of the church and escorted to a front seat.

That was all the special attention bestowed upon the defeated Democratic candidate on his first public appearance after delivering his valedictory address to the great democracy of the United States. The experience was something new in the life of the man who had achieved many political triumphs in his native State and the city of New York. But there are occasions when the considerations of the church as well as beneficial to the soul. We are told that after the religious services Father Keenan "improved the occasion" in an address to the congregation, saying he wished to extend a word of welcome "to the big and good hearted man who is with us today, a man who in defeat has been victorious, Alfred E. Smith has done more for Americanism and Catholicism than any other man in American history. He has broken down prejudice and intolerance."

After reading the somewhat enthusiastic declaration of the end of the world, we wondered whether either he or Al. Smith, or anybody of the present generation, will live to see the gathering of the fruits of the victory achieved by the Democratic candidate. A few days ago we quoted the views of another American, a poet, a writer, and probably also a good Catholic, Mr. Harvey O'Higgins said a political candidate was not elected by his friends but by his opponent's enemies. In saying that he was justified in not sending our children to school. We firmly believe in true education and in no false teaching that is taught in the schools at present. We know that in Canada the freedom of religion exists and we also know the words of Christ, "Path with words to acquire ability to live on 'easy street' such as swindlers, fraudulence and powerful exploitation of the working class of people, the tollers of the land, and we ourselves belong to the working class and strive by means of honest toil to obtain our subsistence; at the same time conforming our children to learn in the broad school of Eternal Nature."

rate, not for a very long time will the managers of the Democratic Party select a politician who is a Catholic by profession of faith as their presidential candidate. And we doubt whether any politician who professes the Catholic faith will be in haste to offer himself as a Republican candidate for the presidency. Such a state of political affairs in a country whose people should be exceptionally tolerant in their religious views is almost incomprehensible to the people of this country.

SONS OF FREEDOM

Sir,—To clear any misunderstanding that may exist between the Governments of Canada and the Sons of Freedom, we brethren of the same faith, deem it necessary to acquaint you with the reasons which caused our colleague, George Verigin, of Lougham, Saskatchewan, to prevent his fosterchild, Peter W. Osatchoff, from attending school, and as a result the former was arrested on October 31, 1928, and confined in a period of one month to Prince Albert penitentiary.

We, Sons of Freedom, consider that true education, or science, is the knowledge which is most indispensable and most important object of learning for the life of mankind. It is the knowledge of such things which one must do for every man, so as to live better that short period of life which is destined to us by the laws of Nature.

In order to know the best way of living in this world we first must know what is exactly good, always, everywhere, and for all the people. We must also know what is bad, always and everywhere and for all the people; that is, we must know what we should do and what we should not do.

In this world, and only in this world, we want to educate our children. Present school education fosters patriotism which is the most essential factor in the cause of war where innocent blood absolutely is shed in vain. Most highly educated people consider this horrible blood shed as lawful, but we consider it as a great sin.

Present school education is egoistic and selfish. Most people go to school to acquire ability to live on "easy street" such as swindlers, fraudulence and powerful exploitation of the working class of people, the tollers of the land, and we ourselves belong to the working class and strive by means of honest toil to obtain our subsistence; at the same time conforming our children to learn in the broad school of Eternal Nature."

checking the new decking and the superstructure of the approach will carry light traffic to the float for some time to come.

The Marine Department will be requested to see that the Singer Lumber Company carry out the conditions mentioned.

The Hon. the Minister of Public Works
Ottawa

Dear Sir,—I have to thank you for your communication of November 19, stating the terms on which the Government leased Crofton Pier to a private logging company.

I would have imagined that it was quite illegal for a Government to lease public property such as a pier to private individuals, especially to be put to use for which it is totally unfitted; I am not a lawyer, however, so I must get advice on that point. But I might perhaps point out that, even if legal, the conditions are a mere farce and utterly inadequate; it does not need an engineer to tell that the main and costly damage from allowing logging operations on a light structure such as the Crofton Pier would be to the piles and heavy timbers, the plank being a comparatively small affair. I should imagine that the logging company itself recognizes the farce, as instead of carrying out condition No. 1 and repairing the hole right through the deck and the broken planking at the head of the gangway to the floating landing, it evidently thinks it simpler to inform pedestrians that they have no right on the pier at all.

But the serious feature of the matter is the way in which in this and all previous letters from your department, you totally ignore the main point, i.e., that if you had followed the strong recommendations of the local agent for the Department of Marine and Fisheries in 1928 and had without any question at all you should have refused to allow a light pier, which was not built and was utterly unfit for to be used for any logging operations, this pier would have been standing now as it was then, fit for all general use, and there would have been no question of rebuilding or any big expenditure at all.

It is by the default of your department, and probably of the Department of Marine and Fisheries also, that the residents of this place have lost their pier and with it their facilities for sea-freightage, and this is the point which must be brought to the public notice.

J. BARNARD.
Captain.

THE UNKNOWN

Oh, never a smoke-wreathed funnel slips
Over the world's far rim.
But it goes with the old old lure of ships
Into those regions dim.

There is never an unscaled mountain peak
But it beckons through cloud and mist
To the valiant souls that forever seek
With the trackless waves a tryst.

For a challenge lies in the heights unwon,
And till Earth flames up like the burning sun
Men will storm at the unknown gates!

(1) Keep the wharf in good condition for pedestrian traffic at all times.
(2) To lay new decking on the wharf of two inch planking eight feet wide when our operation is through.
(3) To deposit bond sufficient to cover this renewal and repair work.
(4) To pay a monthly or yearly rental in advance while we are using the wharf.

PROF. H. HILL FORESEES AGE DISEASE FREE

"Philosophy of Disease and Health" Told at University Extension Lecture Here

CHALLENGE TO ORTHODOXY

"Twenty years ago all we hoped for was to reduce disease. Now we see, as a practical economic proposition, that many diseases can be abolished altogether," said Professor H. W. Hill, M.B., M.D., D.P.H., L.M.C.C., in speaking on "The Philosophy of Disease and Health" at the University extension lecture at Victoria College last night.

The speaker, who was the first professional bacteriologist in Canada, and first professional epidemiologist in the United States, said that preventive medicine, as distinct from curative medicine, had been his study for many years.

He had always been impressed, he said, by the prevalent feeling that disease was something frightful. There was, in fact, no mystery in disease whatever. Just as a bridge would collapse when called upon to bear too great a weight, so the system would break down under unworked strain. A comparative definition of disease might be expressed in the following terms: "Disease is an attempt on the part of an individual to adjust himself to some change in his surroundings, where the adjustment causes pain or discomfort.

CAPACITY FOR ADJUSTMENT. Any military man, continued the speaker, knew that standing a battalion at attention for fifteen minutes would put it out of action more effectively than marching it fifteen miles. We were born, he said, with an enormous capacity for adjustment, much of which was luckily automatic, while the remainder was slower in process. In this connection he cited the instance of an African native, who has slowly adjusted himself to a barefoot state, until the sole of his foot is a horny pad half an inch thick.

"We were most of us born," went on Professor Hill, with the potentiality to meet the environmental necessities germ. At the end of three weeks we adjusted ourselves for the sake of our lives. Some people, of course, had not this potentiality, in which case they died, or were liable to get the disease again."

Speaking of the health of the province, with the exception of Ontario, he said that we were more than usually healthy, except as regarding cancer. Nevertheless 200,000 people in Canada were sick every day of the year, and the yearly attacks of cold in the Dominion exceeded twenty million.

Three hundred years ago, he stated, a quarter of the population of Great Britain died of tuberculosis and, in the days of chivalry, the average knight was a broken down old man at the age of thirty.

STRANGE IDEAS OF VIRTUE. The ancients had the idea that disease was a direct manifestation of the wrath of God. Later, when it became evident that the children of the bishop were no more immune from measles than those of the burglar, they decided that disease was meted out to them by the devil, because he was jealous of their extreme virtue.

Then came the idea that disease, and particularly typhoid fever, was brought about by bad smells. The late war, however, had done much to dispel this theory. There was a higher average of health in the front line trenches, where bad smells had really shown how bad they could be, than had existed among the same men before the war.

"I am speaking as representing the most advanced medical thought of the white world today," concluded Professor Hill, "so please do not think that what I have told you is a collection of theories, put forward by a silly old duffer from Vancouver. I may say I do hope and believe that this twentieth century in which we live, will be the age which will see the abolition of disease from the world."

Pas Dog Teams to Run to Flin Flon And Back Again

THE PAS, Man., Nov. 29.—Revival of the 200-mile endurance dog Derby which brought fame to The Pas in other years, was decided upon at a meeting of the Winter carnival executive held here last night.

The carnival will be held from March 4 to 7, and the dog race will be run from The Pas to Flin Flon and return. Prizes will total $2,000.

Among the chief entrants will be the well-known musher Emil St. Godard, present world's champion, Seppala, famous Alaskan driver, who also enters, it is expected.

P.G.E. Discontinues Services on Lines; Bridges Are Unsafe

VANCOUVER, Nov. 29.—Service on the North Shore lines of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway was discontinued Wednesday night and stages were placed in operation, commencing this morning.

The board of directors of the railway recently received advice from the maintenance-of-way engineers that bridges on the North Shore section were unsafe for traffic. They requested that an inspection of them be made by an inspector of the Department of Railways.

As a consequence the deputy minister and chief engineer of railways for the province made an inspection Wednesday and confirmed the report of the maintenance-of-way engineers.

Further running of trains over the section was forbidden.

SANTA CLAUS WILL PARADE SATURDAY

Annual Procession of Floats, Fairy-Tale and Storybook Characters Set for 10:30 o'clock

Santa Claus returns grows a little bit every year since he has discovered that Victoria children like to see what kind of a procession he has when he leaves his icy home in the North. Tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock he will leave the top of Yates Street with quite the most imposing list of attendants seen within the memory of any little boy or girl on Vancouver Island. And as at any time one or all of these fairy-tale and storybook characters might stub his toe or bump his nose on the North Pole and thus be disabled from joining next year's excursion, it would be just as well if everybody turned out to see them tomorrow.

Santa Claus, of course, will be the great person in the parade. He will come somewhere near the beginning of the procession, which will be led in the usual way by a herald with trumpet, a standard bearer and Santa's own special bodyguard of wooden soldiers. After these, and the band which will accompany them, will come the first great float, "The Land of Special Dreams," which will show a little bit of the great "Never-Never Land," which all children long to see. But listen to what is to follow: The Love-Decks, the "Built-in" Bird, Orphan Annie, the Pat Boy, the Giant Pig, an elephant, some elves, a number of gnomes and fairies, a wonderful lion and unicorn, which appear in all manner of places as a picture, a concertina horse, the Walrus and the Carpenter, right out of "Alice in Wonderland," "Andy Gump," and a great number of other characters, some of which have paraded before and some are making their very first visit to Victoria.

In addition to all this there are to be ever so many floats. "Three Bears" on a raft, a procession containing a jolly Pirate Ship full of pirates; another with Little Red Riding Hood; one with Old Dame Toad and her children, and a lot to cause some fun; Mother Goose, "Hickory-Didkory-Do," "Bubbles" (which is certain to be one of the prettiest characters), "Lads" will come Santa's Snowball, which one feels certain, must have been kept in the refrigerator for the last two days, otherwise it would have melted down to nothingness on its way down from the Arctic.

This year Santa has not announced just what he intends doing with his profession. He has, however, David Spencer, Ltd., where he has again rented quarters for the next twenty-five days, and where he will be ready to receive his visitors in a breezy and jolly manner, the boys and girls who want to tell him what they wish for Christmas.

NEALON GIVEN PRISON TERM

Accused to Serve Eighteen Months for Forgery Charge in Case Opens in Police Court

John Nealon was sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment by Magistrate George Jay in the city police court yesterday on a charge of forging a cheque for $200 in favor of "T. S. Dolan," city prosecutor. He pleaded not guilty to the charge, entered no defence whatever, and had no questions to ask of the prosecution witnesses. His Honor pointed to the seriousness of the offence, and said that on account of the fact that it was the first time that Nealon had been in this sort of trouble, the penalty would be somewhat lighter than it otherwise might have been.

In passing sentence, His Honor said that Nealon and Mable Driver were jointly charged with unlawfully keeping beer for sale on premises on Carroll Street. The two accused pleaded not guilty. Through counsel, Mr. Richard C. Lowe, testimony for the prosecution was given by Chief of Police John Fry, Sergeant Thomas Healey and Motorcycle Constable James Peterson. Witnesses for the defence will be on the stand this afternoon when the case is resumed at 2:30 o'clock.

Says-Now Stiff Joints Must Go!

New Discovery Limbers 'Em Up and Even the Creaking Ceases

Yes, it's true—the world progresses. All you have to do nowadays to limber up that stiff, rusty knee joint is to squeeze a half inch of intricate working substance from a tube. Then rub it on the offending part for about a quarter of a minute or until it soaks through the skin and disappears on its errand of mercy. Then read the evening newspapers and go to bed.

The chances are that your misbehaving knee joint will lose its "creak" while you are dreaming about the high fences you used to leap when you were a youngster. "And in the morning," says one who has tried the new discovery, "You'll feel so happy that you'll want to jump into your sportiest clothes and walk briskly down the street just to show the neighbors that you are not as old as they think you are."

Joint-Ease: They call this wonder working substance for the limbering up of stiff joints, and it is a good name for a good, clean, stainless prescription that in just a few months has proven to a multitude of people that lame, swollen, distorted joints can speedily have the kinks taken out of them and work as smoothly as ever. But Joint-Ease is for bothersome joints, whether in knee, ankle, hip, shoulder, spine or finger, and for that purpose its sale is immense. MacFarlane Drug Co. has a big supply of it and directs every where report a big demand. (Adv.)

Saanich Police Ball Promises To Be Success

Every ticket has been sold for the annual Saanich Police ball to be held in the Agricultural Hall, Saanich, tonight. It was announced yesterday by Chief of Police Rankin. Dancing will start at 9 o'clock and continue until 2 o'clock in the morning. A six-piece orchestra will provide the music.

The West Saanich Women's Institute is in charge of the catering. The hall has been fittingly decorated for the occasion. A special bus will leave the Vancouver Island Coach Lines Depot at 9:15 o'clock and return from Saanich at 11:30 p.m., so that no one need be placed to any inconvenience as to getting out to the dance and back again.

The proceeds of the dance will be placed in a fund to provide Christmas presents, necessities and hampers for poor children and other charitable causes in Saanich.

WATSON SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Accused to Be Tried by Higher Court on Charge of Stealing From House of E. Housley

Robert Watson was committed for trial by Magistrate George Jay in the city police court yesterday on a charge of breaking and entering the premises of Eric Housley, 40 Howe Street, on the night of November 17, and committing theft. The charge was made by the police officer, Mr. David S. Tait, and entered a plea of not guilty. Mr. Watson was committed for trial by a higher court through counsel, Mr. David S. Tait, and entered a plea of not guilty. Mr. Watson was committed for trial by a higher court through counsel, Mr. David S. Tait, and entered a plea of not guilty.

The first witness called by the prosecution at the preliminary hearing was Eric Housley, resident at 40 Howe Street, the premises where the alleged theft took place. He testified that on returning from a motion picture theatre at 10 p.m. on November 17, he discovered the house had been entered. Burned matches were scattered over the floor of two rooms, and a window at the back of the house, which had been closed, was missing from a purse and that the brown silk breast-pocket handkerchief, which had been in a bureau drawer, was gone. The handkerchief produced in court was identified by witness as belonging to him.

Testimony corroborative of Housley's evidence was given by his wife, Mrs. Housley. Chief of Police John Fry told of securing the handkerchief from the accused when the latter was changing his clothes in the police station. Witness said the accused had tried to hide the article from him.

The bodies of the father, mother and one child, have been recovered by Indian natives, and search for the remains of the other children was continuing. It was said.

PRAIRIE GRAIN NEARLY ALL IN

Large Amount Affected by August and September Frosts Reduced to Feed Only

WINNIPEG, Nov. 29.—"Western Canada has never been in better shape than at present," said W. M. Neal, general manager, Western lines, of the Canadian Pacific, on his return from an inspection tour of his territory. "The grain is practically all in, though here and there are huge piles of stocks, which accounts for the steady marketings in the elevators along the lines. The only serious thing about the grain situation in Western Canada today is the grade of grain affected by the frost of August and early September. It was hoped that some large percentage would recover, but it is a regrettable fact that the grade dropped in too many cases not only to six, but to feed."

During his trip, Mr. Neal visited the branch lines in Alberta just out to operation. He covered the Drumheller joint line from Rosedale to Bull Pound and into Rosemary, and found the district flourishing and the country in fine shape. "Vancouver is striding along. The grain movement is larger than ever before," said the general manager. "About 400,000 bushels of grain is moving through daily, and building the most healthy sign in any community, is giving employment to workmen and all classes. The summer season is past, and it has been a busy season. And better still, all is set for an even better year in 1929."

WINNIPEG, Nov. 29.—The elevators at lakehead are working overtime to get grain down the Lakes before freeze-up, the total being today reduced to 139,525,000 bushels for this season, reports the Canadian Pacific Railway today.

Vancouver's storage is placed at 8,933,719 bushels, with 240,983 bushels moved by boat yesterday. Canadian Pacific has 1,041 cars out of field yesterday, and 187 moved out of Calgary. Farmers on the C.P.R. lines yesterday marketed 2,348,631 bushels, and 1,885 cars were loaded. The movement east from Winnipeg was heavy, 1,740 cars being billed to lakehead, 1,172 on hand at Transcona, and 1,428 delivered at Port William.

Temblors Recorded

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Three earth temblors within a period of less than four hours were recorded today by the seismograph of Georgetown University. They occurred at 9:45 o'clock this morning, 11:38 a.m. and 1:29 a.m. Father Francis A. Tondorf, director of the seismograph observatory, declared that the third shock was the heaviest. He added that he could not place their location, but believed they all came from the same region.

PIMPLES LASTED OVER 2 YEARS

Healed by Cuticura.

"My daughter's face was covered with pimples that were hard, very large and red. They festered, and were so thick that you could not put a pin head between them. They also broke out on her shoulders and back. They itched and burned, and she could hardly have her clothes touch her, they were so painful. Her face was badly disfigured. The trouble lasted over two years. "I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment so purchased some and at the end of three months she was healed." St. Columba, Tofino, W.A.
A very successful sale of work was held by the St. Columba Women's Auxiliary on Saturday, November 24 in the Community Hall. The sale was opened by Rev. Mr. Ardagh-Walters. The stalls were laden with all kinds of fancywork and other useful articles, and a brisk business was done, realizing a good sum of money. The stall holders were Mrs. Wilfred Armitage, Mrs. George Nicholson, Mrs. Frank Garrard and Mrs. George Anderson. The fish pond, which created great excitement among the younger people, was in the capable hands of Miss Yvonne Malon, assisted by Mrs. B. Garrard. After the sale, refreshments were provided, the rest of the evening being spent in dancing. The Canadian Legion kindly loaned their gramophone for music. One of the features of the evening was the arrival of the Princess Maquina. While the freight was being unloaded at the wharf several of the passengers found their way up to the hall, among them being Mr. Pitt, of Pitt's Orchestra, "Victoria," who brought with him the latest thing in accordions, and for a short while lived up the dance with the most up-to-date music.

Roxton W.A.
A special meeting of the Roxton branch of the W.A. was held at the home of the president, Mrs. A. L. Pack, to hear Miss Masters, a missionary from China, give an account of her work in Honan Province. Miss Masters donned a dress and shoes made by and presented to her by the girls of the school among whom she worked. This dress is similar to the style worn by the girls in this particular school. Her interesting address concerned evangelical and educational work among the people of Honan to gospel truths, she said, was a great encouragement to missionaries. She had some wonderful needlework to show the meeting, all done by the girls, exquisite embroideries and unique patterns, designed by the girls themselves. Among those present were Mesdames Jeffrey, Greig, Watson, Silence, Thomas, Henderson, Edwards, Meredith, Irish, Ash, Pack and Dobie. A special guest was Mrs. Meredith, of Cobble Hill.

Mooseheart Legion
The women of Mooseheart Legion held their regular meeting on Monday in the Sons of England Hall. Senior Regent Robertson presiding. Legions of Fate and Revercomb are general conveners. During the month some very interesting and enjoyable sewing meetings were held in the home of the following legionnaires: Burnett, White, Tate, Revercomb and Wilton. Senior Regent Robertson has kindly offered her home for the final gathering, on Monday, December 3, when all work must be turned in. Nomination of officers took place. Next month the election of officers will be held. Drill Captain Shaw will be in charge of the team. Refreshments were served by Past Regent White. The meeting closed at the close of the meeting.

The guests were received by the president, Mrs. Christie and Mrs. W. G. Wilson, while Mrs. D. Fair, Mrs. Wilkerson, Mrs. Coulbear and Mrs. Lumsden supervised the tea arrangements. Mrs. P. Pratt and Mrs. Coulbear were at the tea table and Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Jeeve and Mrs.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont.

Here is a dress that fairly cries "Turn me over! Turn me over!" For all your interest should be concentrated on its back. In heavy silk crepe, it opens down the back in a sort of cascade effect, to which end the scarf, usually in front, has been designed to float gracefully behind. The double-tiered skirt is of especial interest to skirt cranks, and deserves their attention, if only for the overlapping arrangement of the tiers.

Delightful Dinner-Dance Is Given

Nearly one hundred and fifty members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce with their wives and friends gathered together last evening at the Douglas Hotel when a most enjoyable dinner dance was held. The affair took place in the new cabaret, Mr. Castellani, the manager, being in charge of the arrangements. Pink and bronze chrysanthemums graced dinner tables, and the orchestra played an admirable programme of dance music which was interspersed with song and dance numbers by members of Tommy Parker's Playhouse Theatre Company.

During the evening Mr. W. T. Straith, president of the Junior Chamber, spoke a few words of greeting to the guests, welcoming them to the gathering. With the president and Mrs. Straith at the head table were Mr. P. B. Fowler, president of the Senior Chamber of Commerce; Miss Helen Fowler, Mr. Walter Miles, vice-president of the Junior Chamber, and Mrs. Miles; Miss Edith Howell and Miss Jessie Fullerton. Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Mackay, Alderman and Mrs. Brown of the Junior Chamber, and Mrs. Anselm were also among the guests.

Hunter in charge, had many useful articles for sale, which were practically all sold out at the end of the afternoon.

The apron stall was presided over by Mrs. Kingsbury, Mrs. Francis Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. King. Mrs. Vainright received the doll on display at that stall by guessing its name. "Mary." Miss Beale was kept busy at a busy and fruitful time, disposing of their mysterious packages in the bazaar. Mrs. Eastwood presided over the book and flower stall. She also donated a cake for weight contest. Mrs. Eaton guessing the correct weight, 5 lbs. 3 ozs. Mrs. Hallier guessed the correct weight of the cake generously donated by the University School. "BARBERRY BUSH"

One Girl's Marriage Problems
By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"Well," Marianne said, with an apologetic air of withdrawing, "I happened to hear you quarreling with Link a few seconds ago, that was all."

"Quarreling?" Barbara frowned, remembering, and laughed suddenly. "Oh, he paid my check for breakfast, and he's always doing it," she complained easily. "I didn't know you had to pay in advance here. And when the man came to me he merely said: 'The gentleman paid. So I told Link he mustn't any more.'"

"Here comes the coffee!" Link himself, returning from a voyage of financial adjustment, exclaimed thankfully. He slipped into his chair beside Barbara.

Barbara could not speak to Marianne again unobserved, for several minutes. Then, with a faint frown between her eyes, she went back to the interrupted topic.

"Marianne, what would my quarreling with Link have to do with my 'not coming swimming?' she demanded blankly.

"Nothing," Marianne answered innocently.

"Wait a minute," said Barbara. "Omelette here," she said capably to the waiter, "poached eggs there—omelette here, too, scrambled to that gentleman—that's right."

"Then what did you mean?" she persisted to Marianne when the meal was in progress again.

"Nothing," Marianne said, with a mysterious smile.

"Well, but you have meant something. Why make such a mystery of it?"

"It went through my mind—it's nothing," Marianne said hastily and lightly. "But it went through my mind that you might feel that it was a little better not to have Link—but if you didn't feel it, and Link likes to do it," Marianne added, with an air of dismissing the subject sensibly, "and you like to have him do it, why not?"

Barbara looked at her steadily a moment and the blood crept into her face. Her attitude toward Link during these strange yet not unhappy months of readjustment had been growing only steadier, deeper and keener. She had never seen in it anything to fear, and she did not fear now. But she did not like the look in Marianne's eyes.

"Link has been the best friend any woman ever had," she said simply. She had said it a thousand times in the last few months. But this morning, for the first time, it had a strange and different ring.

"Exactly!" Marianne answered, laughing with just a touch of patronage in her laughter. "And the question is whether—of course, I was married myself, and I know exactly how one feels—but still the question is whether it's quite wise."

"You mean," Barbara asked straightforwardly, between two bites of baccini, "you mean that Barry might object?"

Marianne smiled.

"My dear Barbara, anybody might object she answered sharply. "Do make up—do grow up—do come to your senses!" Marianne added with good-natured impatience.

Barbara continued to look at her very, almost with fright in her blue eyes.

"But every one knows—but every one knows how marvelous—how extraordinary he's been to me!" she said very earnestly.

"Every one knows," Marianne said, "that I would have died if it hadn't been for Link!" she offered, with the first hint of doubt, of un- easiness, in her tone.

"Exactly. And now every one is saying something else, too," Marianne told her pleasantly.

The blood that had crept from Barbara's face rushed back, and her eyes sparkled dangerously.

"What do you mean, Marianne?"

"Well, simply, that an attractive man and a married woman can't have an extremely close friendship, and be seen together all the time, and well, breakfast checks and all the rest of it—without starting comment: you know that as well as I do!" Marianne answered defiantly.

Barbara tried to laugh, but it was a shaky laugh.

"I don't think anything could spoil my gratitude and my affection for Link," she said quietly.

"I can't take you seriously," Marianne. If you heard any gossip of that sort, it was from a pretty poor source. Why, every one knows I'm married!"

"Exactly," Marianne commented in a triumphant tone. "That's all the trouble."

"Barbara, listen here—what do you think—"

The others broke in and conversation became general. Barbara was left with only an unpleasant impression that somehow Marianne had gotten the best of her in a disagreeable talk.

Link spun her home to the Duffy house and she went into the dining-room in time to gossip over his coffee with her father and feed Kate her cereal. The hushed Kate, nearly to her knees, the silky mop that was under her chin, as the child's head darted about.

The sore feeling grew. How intensely offensive Marianne had been at breakfast—Marianne could be like that. She was a little cat, sometimes. No wonder! Wiser to forget it.

Maddening that such folk had power to annoy one to make one's heart beat faster, and the uncomfortable color flush on one's cheeks.

Barbara put on her blue linen gown after luncheon, an old gown, but her best for summer wear, and pulled down the white hat, she would go over to Amy's when Kate awakened: Amy's indignation would be soothing to her own.

Amy and Ward were in the garden when she arrived, taking pictures of the baby.

When this excitement was over and Ward had gone on a hospital call Barbara could speak to her sister confidentially.

"We all got up at half-past six this morning and went swimming, and had breakfast at the Casino."

"Fun!" Amy commented absently, rolling little curls of lint from the baby's tiny palms.

"Yes, it was fun. Afterward Link took me home—dad had just come downstairs, Amy."

Barbara added in a suddenly conscious tone, "Marianne said a funny thing at breakfast—she's awfully catty sometimes anyway. And I suppose she might be jealous. I don't know. But she hinted, as if it were a sort of joke, you know—that Link and I—this is so silly!"

Barbara stopped short, laughing, her face scarlet. To her surprise, Amy merely looked up at her thoughtfully and said:

"Well, Barbara, you must have been perfectly aware of that!"

"Aware of what?"

"That—that Link likes you. That he probably hopes you—that if anything happened to Barry—" Amy floundered in her turn.

"What on earth could happen to Barry?"

"Nothing, I suppose," Amy murmured meekly.

"You mean you think Link and I have been going too far?" Barbara pursued.

Amy said hastily and placatingly: "I don't! But of course people do notice it."

"I see I have done Link a terrible injury," Barbara said quietly, after a pause. Amy felt frightened.

"Oh, now, Barbara, don't be silly!" she pleaded. "You and Link always have been friends, and he saved your life and stood by you when your own husband didn't, and every one knows it! Lots of people," Amy added, with candor, "think you ought to divorce Barry—really they do."

"And marry Link?" Barbara asked, at white heat.

"They don't say that," Barbara bit her lip, shrugged and laughed merrily and lightly.

"Really, I wish people would mind their own affairs," she said placidly.

"Well, they see you always together, and you are beautiful Babs, and naturally they put their own construction on it!" Amy explained.

"Oh, naturally they would," Barbara exclaimed darkly. And presently Barbara began to talk with great good humor and animation about entirely unrelated subjects.

But the day was spoiled. Her original plan had been to wander over to the Mackenzie garden in the middle of the long afternoon and at least see what was going on. Now she could not do so quite simply.

She loitered at Amy's and when Ward got back they all took a long drive. Finally they turned in at the familiar Duffy gate.

To Barbara there was a stupid, glaring ugliness over the world, Sunday afternoon at half-past four was a detestable hour. The house seemed shabbier than usual and smelled hot and dry.

Why wasn't she content to sit on the side lawn with Amy and Mrs. Duffy, the babies and various other members of the household, and join the lazy, pleasant gossip of the afternoon? There was nothing to matter; the world was going on happily enough.

But a sense of wrong, loss and discontent possessed her. She felt herself drawn as by ropes to the Mackenzie house. To go to lunch with Link—she hadn't seen him since he brought her home that morning.

Barbara smiled at the absurdity of it! To have seen him eight hours ago, and yet to be longing so hungrily to see him again.

Well, but all this silly talk by Marianne and Amy had intervened. Barbara reflected. This new preposterous suggestion had seemed to change everything, to put them in a new relationship, to set a different and a very much heightened value upon Link's brotherly companionship.

CHRISTMAS SEALS ARE BEING ISSUED

Kiwanis Club Sponsors Appeal on Behalf of Prevention and Cure of Tuberculosis

The Kiwanis Service Club is sponsoring the sale of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals in this city, and has mailed to the citizens 8,000 appeal letters. Those who do not receive a letter will have an opportunity of purchasing these seals through the various stores.

The circular says: "The health of our community is a matter of vital importance to every citizen, therefore the prevention and cure of tuberculosis should receive not only your sympathy, but your practical assistance. The Kiwanis Club is sponsoring in this district a campaign, which is world-wide in its scope, for the sale of seals for your Christmas parcels and letters. The money received will be used as follows:

"Seventy-five per cent for tuberculosis work in our own city, hospitals, etc.

"Fifteen per cent to assist the Tranquille Sanatorium by purchasing a portable X-ray machine and assisting the maintenance of a traveling public health nurse.

"Ten per cent to the Canadian Tuberculosis Association at Ottawa, to cover cost of printing and postage.

"The Kiwanis Club will receive no financial benefit, the work of this campaign being undertaken gratuitously by club members.

"We trust that you will assist us in this campaign and that you will either purchase the seals yourself or dispose of them among your friends.

The enclosed seals are one cent.

STRATFORD CO. PLAYS HENRY IV

SHAKESPEAREAN DRAMA OF LANCASTRIAN SUCCESSION PRESENTED

Falstaff and Prince Henry Continue to Amuse Victoria Playgoers at Royal Theatre

Victorians had another opportunity last evening to see Shakespeare presented by the members composing the Stratford-Upon-Avon Festival Company, which will appear at the Royal Victoria Theatre for the remainder of this week. The venue through which the art of the great dramatist was interpreted last night was Part One of Henry IV.

Again the opportunity was afforded to see Roy Hylford in his inimitable depiction of the rollicking braggart Falstaff. On the previous night Falstaff in "The Merry Wives of Windsor" was seen at the theatre in the play which is so prominently associated with his character. Last night he was again before the footlights in a somewhat altered role as the boozing soldier, but voicing that wonderful philosophy of life which is placed in his mouth by Shakespeare.

For three hours there passed before the audience scenes from the chivalric period of English history when war was easily provoked, and when the nation was in the making.

Coupled with the depicting of episodes of the early fifteenth century, they had the advantage of hearing the dramatic lines of the great English bard as given by a company specially selected from the artists of the English stage. The audience that greeted the presentation heartily enjoyed it, and accorded to the company a full measure of applause. The attendance, however, was not as large as was warranted by the excellence of the production.

The dashing, impetuous character of Hotspur was taken by Wilfrid Walker, with George Haynes in the role of King Henry. Both of these actors filled their parts well. In the character of the Earl of Northumberland, C. Rivers Gadsby acquitted himself well, as did also Eric Maxon as the Prince of Wales, the somewhat riotous heir.

While special attention attached to these leading parts, the remainder of the company, if their parts were less prominent, filled their roles excellently throughout. This was especially true of the ladies who appeared in the drama, more particularly Dorothy Massingham, as the attractive wife of Hotspur, and Mary Holder as the daughter of Owen Glendower, the later Lady Mortimer.

This evening the opportunity will be afforded to see this talented company in Hamlet, the famous tragedy of Shakespeare.

CAPITOL A picture that thrills, THEATRE mystifies, and baffles the audience is First National's film, "The Ware Case," opened at the Capitol Theatre last night. Based upon a novel, later turned into stage his, by George Playdell Bancroft, the producers have exercised great ingenuity in constructing the film version and in withholding the solution until the powerful dramatic and thrilling climax.

The audience last night was kept guessing until the last flicker of the film. And that's what makes for success in mystery photoplay. With good direction and capable acting such as "The Ware Case" has, no film can then miss fire. An interesting feature of "The Ware Case," entirely aside from the ingenuity of the sustained mystery, is the court sequence showing how a murder trial is conducted in an English court.

PLAYHOUSE The movies are getting even with the speaking stage for poking fun at the flicker drama. Several stage plays and musical comedies have appeared on Broadway in which Hollywood was the subject of good-natured banter. Now the cinema is using the theatre as a theme. One of the latest instances is Trendy's "Powder My Back," now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, a comedy-drama of queen life, in which she is starred as a publicity-seeking and a queen of the song-and-dance ranks.

"I'll never speak to you again as long as I live," said the girl. "Darling, you can't mean it; you can't!" "I do!" "You can't, dearest; it's too good to be true!"

D'Oyly Carte Troupe Presents "Iolanthe" As Originally Given

The fanciful imagination of the story and the fairy music of "Iolanthe" demand that it be given according to very strict rules in order that it may not lose its greatest charms in translation from book and score to sight and sound. When it is presented here at the Royal Theatre for three days commencing Monday, December 3, as the opening offering of the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company it is assured of perfect presentation, and lovers of this famous fairy opera will do well not to miss the opportunity to see it as it should be played. The "susceptible" characters of Iolanthe, as well as Strephon, the peers, the sentry, the fairy queen, are roles demanding great talent to maintain the fairyland atmosphere so admirably brought out in the music. "Iolanthe" is full of wit, but is always dainty and airy, and the adventures that finally change the fairy law. "Every fairy shall die who marries a mortal," to the reverse are exhilarating and beautiful. For the final three days of the opening week "Trial by Jury" and "The Pirates of Penzance" have been selected for presentation. The second and final week commencing Monday, December 10, will be devoted to "Ruddigore" and "The Mikado."

COLUMBIA Tim McCoy, famous theatre star of adventure plays, Viatcheslav Tourjanjky, who directed "Michael Stragot" and Leon Abrams, who directed the last picture made by Sarah Bernhardt before her death, are the trio responsible for "The Adventurer," McCoy's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle, now showing at the Columbia Theatre. Abrams is author of the thrilling story of "Latin-America," while Tourjanjky directed it. Also on the same bill is the first chapter of "Tarzan the Mighty," a thrilling serial, starring Frank Merrill.

COLISEUM Norma Shearer's new THEATRE starring picture, "The Actress," now showing at the Coliseum Theatre, is the screen adaptation of "Trelawney of the Wells," the last play in which the late John Drew appeared. Drew was playing in "Trelawney" in San Francisco when he was taken sick and never recovered. O. P. Heggie, who was playing the role of Captain Pennox in the play, stepped into the role Drew was playing, and was also engaged to play the same part in the screen production, which is released by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Several stage plays and musical comedies have appeared on Broadway in which Hollywood was the subject of good-natured banter. Now the cinema is using the theatre as a theme. Canadian Politicians Please Note!

COMMENTING upon the American Presidential election, Roger Babson writes:

The American people, in the greatest election in the country's history, have solidly swung in behind a leadership at Washington which is economic rather than political, and scientific rather than partisan.

If the people of the United States have thus demonstrated so strikingly their new economic consciousness, it is time that Canadian politicians were beginning to realize that the Canadian people are also developing an economic consciousness that demands economic rather than political action.

The most damning hindrance to economic action in Canada is that group of Tory politicians who have been running up and down the country waving the flag and objecting to every trading arrangement this Dominion tries to make.

There is a definite similarity, with regard to economic action, between the Republican Government of the United States and the Liberal Government of Canada.

During the past thirty years, whenever a Liberal Government has been in power, Canada has always enjoyed prosperity. Under the Conservatives we have always had hard times.

The reason for this is that the Conservative Party has always exploited protection and patriotism, while the Liberals have tried to develop the scientific and economic side of government. Canadian Toryism has built up prejudices; Canadian Liberalism has built up trade.

The Republican is the great party of United States just as the Liberal is the great party of Canada. The Liberal Party has always been a party of prosperity. Republicans have taken as their theme in this recent election science and economics. The same theme has always been taken by the Liberal mind in Canada.

Conservatism in Canada will never get Canada anywhere until it stops talking so much about developing business in Canada in one breath, and in the next breath killing off the Australian Treaty, which is the biggest trading factor Canada has today.

United States, with 120,000,000 population, can, in terms of trade and tariff, afford to think INWARDLY. If Canada, in terms of trade and tariff, thinks inwardly, she confines herself to less than 10,000,000 people. With her great storehouse of raw materials, if Canada thinks OUTWARDLY, the BRITISH DOMINIONS, in fact, the whole world is her market.

Great ECONOMIC development is today knocking at Canada's door. Shall it be encouraged or shall it again be thwarted by politics and pseudo patriotism?

The lesson of the American election is that the people of this Continent are losing patience with political hokum, and will reward those leaders who base their programme on the laws of economics.

Superstition Scares Philippine Natives

MANILA, Nov. 29.—Fear of three black-robed, headless sisters, who,

the story of the headless sisters, who are called the Tatung Maras, or three Marys, began to circulate a few weeks ago. It spread rapidly and fully 75 per cent of the homes were marked with crosses.

Those who marked their doors said that the sisters made nightly calls and that the person who answered their knock at the door was stricken with a fatal illness. But if a white cross was upon the door there was no visitation.

The great problem is distribution. Think of legs like that being wanted on a kangaroo, far from street crossings.

GOVERNMENT TO TAKE OVER SCHOOL BLOCK

Use Old Vancouver Technical School Premises for Offices

COMPENSATION BOARD TO MOVE

The premises which have lately been occupied by the technical school in Vancouver will soon be utilized for Provincial Government purposes. With the transfer of the technical school to the new location, the former quarters have been left unoccupied. The building is the property of the Provincial Government, and various proposals have been made looking to the utilization of it since it was vacated.

It is now announced that the premises will be overhauled and fitted up for the use of the Government to take care of the various bodies that have had to find homes in different parts of the city of Vancouver, and to relieve the congestion on the accommodation provided at the Court House, which has become a sort of home for provincial organizations having their offices in the Terminal City.

The Workmen's Compensation Board, which has been located in the old Board of Trade Building, and which called for the expenditure of some $2,000 a month for the suite of offices occupied, will move, it is said, into the old technical school premises.

Provision will also be made for the various offices connected with the Labor Department, such as the Employment Office, and it is also anticipated that the Provincial Police will transfer from the crowded quarters now occupied in the Court House to the new location.

B.C. BREEDERS SELL SILVER BLACK FOXES SWEDEN AND FRANCE

MERRITT, Nov. 29.—The largest single shipment of foxes to leave British Columbia was made here today when W. Crompton expressed twenty pairs of silver blacks—fifteen pairs of proven breeders and five pairs of pups—to Gothenberg, Sweden. G. Carroll was in charge of the shipment and will accompany it to its destination. The consignment was valued at $20,000.

A shipment of thirty-five pairs of silver black foxes for breeding purposes will be made this week by Gills Brothers. These will be sent to Grenoble, France.

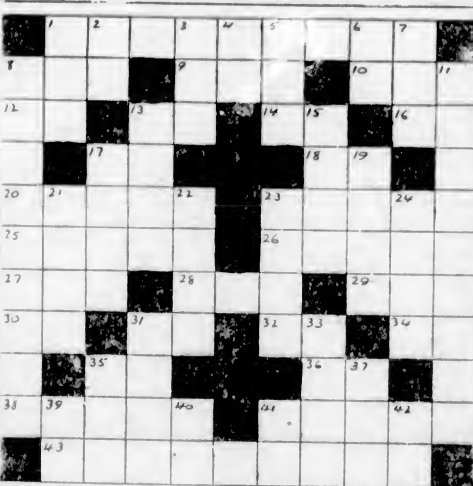

CANARY CEASES TO SING WHEN WEDDED

CAMDEN, N.J., Nov. 29.—Because of a customer's canary refusing to sing after it was alleged to have fallen in love when caged with a female of the species, Charles Adams, dealer in pets, was hailed before City Judge Bertman today. Adams had guaranteed that it would sing.

"Of course he won't sing," said Mr. Adams in defence of the silent songster. "The trouble is Mr. Simpson put the bird in a cage with a lady canary. It fell in love, and it's a funny thing, when a canary is in love it won't sing a note."

"It's out of my jurisdiction," said the magistrate.

C.P.R. Offer of Share to C.N.R. Was Voluntary

MONTREAL, Nov. 28.—Grant Hall, vice-president of the C.P.R., remarks that dispatches covering the decision of the Canadian National Railways to share with the C.P.R. the operation of the Alberta railways were slightly in error in suggesting that these lines were only sold by the Alberta Government with the provision that the National Railways be permitted if so desired to participate on equal terms.

Mr. Hall pointed out that in making the final offer to purchase, Mr. Beatty said he would like it to be understood that if the offer was accepted, the Canadian National would be allowed, if it chose to do so, to acquire a half interest at any time after the execution of the agreement, but not later than December 31, 1928. This, as does the correspondence with the president of the Canadian National Railways, Mr. Hall said, shows that the Canadian Pacific was desirous of having the National lines join them, and that this condition of sale was a voluntary stipulation on the part of his company.

Italy Indignant At Indulgence of Jury to Assassin

ROME, Nov. 29.—General indignation was expressed by the Roman press today over the light sentence given by a Paris jury to Serge di Modugno, who shot and killed the Italian vice-consul, Count Carlo Nardini, in 1927.

Il Tevere headed its comment "Another Infamy," and said: "The Latin brothers of Paris have almost absolved the assassin." Il Brilliante called it "an iniquitous sentence," and The Piccolo called it "A French verdict which is a shame for a civilization."

Manchester Guardian Approves Proposal For Conference

LONDON, Nov. 29 (Canadian Press Cable).—While describing the proposal of an Anglo-American conference on naval affairs put forward by Representative Britten, of the United States Congress, as an admirable one, The Manchester Guardian today points out that Premier Baldwin, to whom the proposal was made, "is almost the last person who should have been approached, since his contacts with the United States must be official."

The newspaper adds: "The leader of either of the opposition parties could more easily have responded to the invitation. But the most suitable person of all to take the initiative in this country would have been some distinguished person of an independent mind, like Viscount Lee of Fareham, whose own suggestion for a meeting of statesmen unaccompanied by naval experts were of a somewhat similar kind."

Two London morning papers urged that Great Britain accept Representative Britten's proposal of an Anglo-American conference on naval affairs.

The Daily Express said: "Whatever officialdom may say, the idea is a good one. The opportunity should be taken."

The Laborite Daily Herald: "The proposal deserves serious consideration. There is too much good sense in the idea to let it be turned down because Britten has disregarded the rules of diplomatic behavior."

S. A. POMEROY IS NAMED SECRETARY

Popular Esquimalt District Councillor Selected to Succeed Mr. Wilson as Board's Secretary

Mr. Samuel A. Pomeroy, for many years a councillor in Esquimalt Municipality, was last evening at a special meeting of the Esquimalt School Board appointed to succeed Mr. W. E. Wilson as secretary of the board.

Last week at the regular meeting of the trustees, Mr. Wilson, who was secretary for the past four years resigned to take up a position at Sidney. Although the trustees urged him to retain his position, he declared that it was impossible to journey to the city every time the board held a meeting. However, his resignation was accepted much to the regret of the board.

The appointment of Mr. Pomeroy will undoubtedly meet with the approval of the board, as he has been a resident of the district for a good many years and a member of the council for the past few years.

To accept the position as the school board's secretary, he will be forced to give up his seat at the Municipal Hall. As the past secretary will be moving his residence to Sidney within the next few weeks, Mr. Pomeroy will be forced to hand in his resignation at the next meeting of the council, which will be held next Monday.

They were testifying for the steamship Eurana, which is being sued by the Burrard Inlet Tunnel & Bridge Company for $8,000 damages to the Second Narrows bridge.

SOCCER TEAMS TO START PLAY FOR PEDEN CUP

Two Good Games Carded
Tomorrow—Victoria City to Battle Dockers at Royal Athletic

SAANICH THISTLES PLAY GREENSHIRTS

Peden Cup matches will hold the spotlight with First Division soccer teams tomorrow with two games being played in the first round. The draw is as follows:

Victoria City vs. Esquimalt, at the Royal Athletic Park.

Victoria West vs. Saanich Thistles, at Beacon Hill.

Games will start at 2:45 o'clock. The net proceeds from all games played in this series go to the Injured Players' Fund, which was made possible by the donation of the trophy by Alex. Peden, well-known figure in local soccer circles.

Tomorrow's games are attractive, with the job of selecting the better encounter somewhat of a hard task. Victoria City are, perhaps, the best team on paper, but at that, the Dockers have a fast young squad which should prove capable of giving the City representatives a good battle.

THISTLES VS. WESTS
At Beacon Hill, Saanich Thistles and Victoria West will be meeting again for the second consecutive week. Last week these teams battled to a 1-1 draw at the Royal Athletic Park, which speaks for their being evenly matched. Tomorrow's encounter will undoubtedly be a keenly contested affair.

Taking into consideration the nature of the matches, and the even way in which the teams are matched, it is safe to assume that large crowds will witness the games.

Some of tomorrow's line-ups follow:

Sons of England—Todd, Baker, Bradley, J. Hall, J. Headdy, Simpson, G. Ward, A. Lambick, A. Ferguson, H. Price, O. Bridges, Cummings, Taylor, Edwards, V. Headdy and A. Jackson. All players are asked to be on hand at 1:30 o'clock.

Victoria West—Hetherington, Williams, S. Sherratt, Peden, Godwin, J. Sherratt, Stewart, Collins, Robinson and Mulcahy.

Saanich Thistles—Rodgers, Joe Crowe, Harper, D'Arcy, Viggers, Jim Crowe, Morehouse, Fred Price, Essler, Ewing and Jack Price.

MEHLHORN LEADS IN HAWAII GOLF

"Wild Bill" Is Only One of Field to Break Seventy—Francis Brown Is Second in Field

HONOLULU, Nov. 29.—Golf honors for the first eighteen holes of the Hawaiian open went to "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn, of New York, today. He was the only one of thirty-three starters to break under a 70, with a 69. Mehlhorn was two strokes under Francis H. I. Brown, former Hawaiian amateur champion, who was low amateur today, with a card of 71.

A gallery of 1,200 followed the stars around the course today. Other scores were: Frank Walsh, Appleton, Wis., 75; Harold Sampson, Burlingame, Cal., 72; Fred Morrison, Alhambra, Cal., 72; Charlie Chung, Redlands, Cal., 75; Al Espinoza, Chicago, 75; Henry Cui, Stratford, Conn., 72; Johnny Golden, Prentiss, N.J., 76; Ted Benedict, Honolulu, 72; Craig Wood, New York, 73; A. Bullock-Webster, Honolulu, 72; Tommy Armour, Washington, D.C., 75; Cyril Walker, Paramus, N.J., 75; Francis Brown, Honolulu, 71; Billy Burke, Port Chester, N.Y., 73.

OREGON TOO GOOD FOR CALIFORNIA

SEATTLE, Nov. 29.—The University of Washington Huskies swept to a brilliant conclusion of an otherwise rather dull football season by upsetting the dope and conquering the Washington State Cougars in a hard-fought game here today, 6-0.

OREGON UNIVERSITY WIN

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 29.—University of Oregon's big and powerful footballers today defeated the conference club from the University of California here by a score of 28 to 6. The Bruins, already humbled by several conference teams, proved but a hard workout for the webfeet. They fought throughout the sixty minutes of play and made two long marches in the final quarter, one of which brought them lone touchdown. One drive, that to the score.

CRISS-CROSS PASSING GAME

What are the advantages of the criss-cross passing game?

Answered By
W. E. MEANWELL
Coach, University of Wisconsin

The criss-cross is a term given to a style of football employed in the offense of basketball, usually the short pass attack. The attackers advance in straight lines and do not run in curves or circles to elude the guards. The course is from side to side, and obliquely forward, usually gaining eight or ten feet toward the goal with each cross.

For this play, it is essential that each time the ball is passed, the thrower follows on in the direction of the pass and runs behind the receiver. The advantages of this shifting of players and of directions are very definite in short pass work. The constant, rapid shifting of men confuses the opposing guards and renders it very difficult for the opposing players to single out and effectively cover any specified opponent. Again, it insures the recovery of a majority of the dropped balls by the man who follows the pass, he being in the best position to see and to secure the fumble. Third, it concentrates the men in proximity to the ball, and so leads to fast passing and effective work.

SUGGESTS FANS' PRIZE

Sports Editor, The Colonist:
Sir,—I was reading a few days ago that Manager Joe Smith was going to give a prize to the one who scores the most goals during the hockey season. I would like to suggest that we have a hockey fans' prize, to be given to the most valuable player of the Victoria hockey team. Then each player, including the goalkeeper, would have a chance of a prize.

If 3,000 fans only gave 10 cents each it would make $300, and I would like to suggest that the sports editors of both papers, timekeeper, referee and Manager Joe Smith be a committee to pick out the most valuable player, and the prize to be given on the night of the last game. Boxes could be put in both daily paper offices, booking office down town, and at the Arena, the money to be put in some bank each week until the end of the season.

TOWNSEND GETS VERDICT OVER LOCAL FIGHTER

Tommy Fielding Outpointed in 10-Round Mix by Mainlander — Victoria Boy
Makes Poor Showing

KEIST BATTLES WAY TO DRAW

VANCOUVER, Nov. 29.—Bully Townsend, local battler, had no difficulty in taking the decision from Tommy Fielding, of Victoria, in the ten-round main event of Professor "Jawn" Allen's fistie show staged at the Auditorium here tonight. The two judges, and Gull Martin, the referee, all marked their cards for Townsend. The local flash had it all over the Victoria battler, who made his worst showing in years.

Only two weeks ago Fielding won from Vic Foley, in Victoria, on a foul, after making an excellent showing, but it was not that same Fielding that had to admit defeat tonight at the hands of Billy Townsend, one of Vancouver's coming fistie stars. There was no doubt about the decision and a number of the fans left their seats before the announcer made it known.

The Mainlander won nine of the ten rounds, while one was even. In the early part of the fight Townsend landed a number of telling body blows, which may have had something to do with Fielding's reversal of form. However, apart from this angle, the Victoria flash missed frequently with right crosses timed for Mr. Townsend's chin. The Vancouver fighter found Fielding very elusive at times, and on two occasions in particular, blows that looked as if they would spell curtains for any battler, just breezed by in the smoky atmosphere of the Auditorium.

HIS ONLY CHANCE

Fielding, who realized that his only chance of grabbing off a much-sought victory in the last round, was via the knockout route, set out to accomplish this task. His best effort, however, was a right cross to Townsend's chin, which made him back up for a few seconds, but that was all.

Townsend may have poked his uncovered chin out to Leo "Kid" Roy, but he certainly took every precaution tonight, and when in any danger of having this part of his face punished, covered it up in his folded left arm.

KEIST GETS DRAW

Tim Keist, of Victoria, fought three thrilling rounds with Wing Hay, of Victoria, and after a regular slugger, the judges and the referee called it a draw. In the earlier part of the fight, the Chinaman looked as if he might send Keist to hear the birds sing, but after a stormy second session, Keist came back strong and had his opponent on the verge of a knockout. In the last round the boys threw gloves from every angle, each absorbing plenty of punishment.

Results of other bouts:
Frank Sawyer, Vancouver, knocked out Joe Reese, of New Westminster, in the first of a four-round bout. They are heavyweights.
Cyril Geisel, Seattle, won the decision in an eight-round event over Frankie Repoz, Bellingham, 145 pounds.

Nelson Ferguson, Vancouver, won easily from Battling Breedon, Olympia, 135 pounds.

Her Monthly Love Letter

The first day of the month, and every month comes this love letter to her. For over two years now she has been receiving it, and it will come with the same regularity as long as she may live.

It was a thoughtful, loving husband and father who made this arrangement. His love letters really come from Beyond to the little family, for by a provision made years before he died, The London Life was to send his wife $100.00 a month as long as she should live.

Amore beautiful thing was never arranged. Both wife and daughter are guaranteed the necessities of life. The home is preserved; the mother's love and care is extended to her little daughter; the child is assured of proper surroundings, a good schooling, and every opportunity in life.

And how easily it was arranged—how simple the doing of a deed with such far-reaching effects. An annual deposit equal to $5.80 per week in a London Life Monthly Income Jubilee Policy taken when he was 30, accomplished it all.

Air Mail Planes Will Pick Up Loads on Wing

Device Invented by Seattle Man to Be Tested Shortly—Cincinnati to Be Scene of Anniversary—Wright Brothers Will Be Honored

By DON BROWN

(Copyright, 1928, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

A device for picking up and depositing air mail or express by a plane while in flight, which has been invented by Dr. Lytle S. Adams, of Seattle, Washington, will be tested shortly at Roosevelt Field, Long Island, New York. The test will be an attempt to break the world's endurance record by taking on gas and oil during the flight in the same manner in which mail is to be picked up in actual practice.

"The development of my apparatus, which I call the 'air mail pick-up,' is the result of an interest which I have had in aviation since the early experiments of the Wright brothers first attracted my attention," Dr. Adams said today.

A new cabin monoplane of latest design, and an improved Wright Whirlwind motor, such as was used by Lindbergh and other successful flyers, will be used in the test flight. Three pilots will take off in the plane with a normal load of gas and oil. By this means they expect to save the wear and tear and danger which taking off with an abnormally heavy load of gas involves. When this supply runs low, they will return to their base, where the ground part of the pick-up is located.

TRAP DESCRIBED

This consists of a V-shaped trap, mounted on a turntable, so that it can be headed into whatever direction the wind is blowing from.

A cable will be unrolled from a spool device in the plane. Empty containers will be attached to a catch on the end of the cable. When the plane is flown exactly over the trap and at the right height, the empty container and its attachment will be dragged into the open mouth of the V-shaped trap. There it will be smoothly guided into a narrow slot and detached by an ingenious device.

A loaded container, resting in the point of the trap on a catapult, which helps start its forward progress, will then be caught by an attachment device and wound up into the plane.

Experimental tests made on the West Coast with a full-sized trap and a light biplane, have worked perfectly, Dr. Adams says.

By this means, the proposed test flight from Roosevelt Field can be prolonged theoretically for the full life of the new Wright motor, which experts will have in the best condition. With three pilots, one or two can be sleeping and the other flying, so that their endurance will be extended as much as possible.

"Only prolonged and heavy fogs or unusually adverse weather of some other sort, can separate the flyers in their attempt to break the world's endurance record, if plane, motor and pilots are able to give a normal performance," an aviation expert informed the writer today.

The coincidence of the anniversary of human flight and the first air mail service for Cincinnati will be made the occasion for a celebration throughout the week of December 17, in the Ohio city.

CITY TO CELEBRATE

Honoring the Wright brothers and celebrating its own improved mail service, Cincinnati will hold open house at Lunken Airport, the municipal field to which everybody in Cincinnati is invited. Guides and experienced employees of the airport will conduct visitors through the hangars and shops.

An exhibition of model airplanes, built by Cincinnati boys, photographs depicting the history of airplane development, wartime airplane types and samples of aerial photography, will be shown. A second exhibit will consist of the work of the airplane and motor factories of the city.

During the international aircraft show at Chicago, December 1 to 9, aerial excursions will be made each day from Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

When an up-state New York restaurant of some distinction recently ran out of lobsters early on a holiday evening, the chef evidenced signs of hysteria. But the owner, with a more practical attitude, telephoned to New York City and ordered lobsters sent up by airplane.

The delivery was made at once, and the lobsters were being served an hour and forty-five minutes after the shortage was discovered.

Another instance of a plane ending a food shortage, this one of somewhat more serious import, occurred in Kansas during the floods resulting from torrential rains in the Southwest.

"The bakers of Independence, Kansas, ran out of yeast and were unable to get more because of the condition of surface transportation of every class."

Pilot Harry Lewis, who flies the right air mail for the National Air Transport between Chicago and Kansas City, took off from Kansas City with 500 pounds of this important ingredient of bread. He made the trip safely, landing in a hayfield six miles west of Independence, as the city airport was inundated. His flying time for the round trip was three hours and fifteen minutes.

STROPPING IS ESSENTIAL TO THE PERFECT SHAVE

a Million barbers I can't be WRONG!

Stropping a razor blade can't be foolish—surely a super-keen blade must be preferable as can be. No need to remove blade to strop or clean it.

What's more, 21 years of research and the expenditure of a million dollars have made this famous razor the most perfect shaving device ever offered.

Recently introduced, the Million Dollar Valet AutoStrop Razor is already a nation-wide sensation. Even if you thought that the original Valet AutoStrop Razor could not be improved, get one of the new Million Dollar models today. Try it with the new Valette-processed blades. Judge its betterments for yourself.

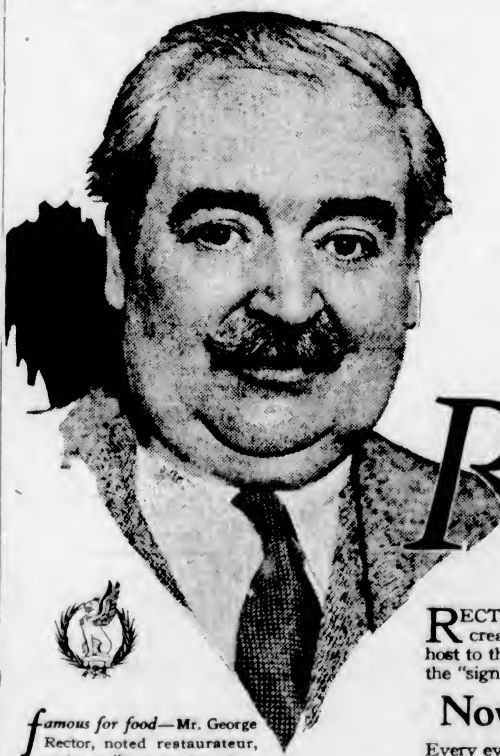

You'll say this Million Dollar Razor is worth all it cost to make—yet it costs you so little that you can't afford to be without it.

YOUNG BANDITS GET JAIL AND LASHES

REGINA, Nov. 29.—Sentences ranging from two years and five lashes to three years and ten lashes were imposed today by Magistrate Jefferson on three young bandits who, on November 21 last, attempted to hold up a Chinese cafe here. Fred Pinchbeck and George Coutts, of Vancouver, were each sentenced to three years and ten lashes, while Jack Ford, of Winnipeg, received a sentence of two years and five lashes. They will be taken to the penitentiary at Prince Albert. Investigation proved all three had bad records, Pinchbeck's being the worst. He had served several terms in jail, and the others had records for robbery and other offences.

AUTO CANNOT BATTLE TRAIN

DISTRESSING NUMBER OF PERSONS LOSE LIVES AT RAILWAY CROSSINGS

Twenty-Four Fatalities in Collisions on C.N.R. System—Drivers Not Careful

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 29.—In spite of repeated warnings, many Western Canada motorists have apparently failed to appreciate that an automobile weighing about one ton cannot successfully do battle with a railway train weighing about 1,500 tons. Statistics compiled by the Canadian National Railways for the ten months of 1928, bring to light the distressing and alarming fact that during that period twenty-four people lost their lives and sixty-four people were more or less seriously injured in collisions between automobiles and trains of the system in Western Canada. In addition there were ninety-three other accidents in which no one was injured. The deaths and injuries occurred in forty-seven accidents.

In eighteen of the twenty-four fatalities, coroners' inquests completely exonerated the railway company from any blame. In the remaining six the facts were so apparent that no inquests were considered necessary. Thus, in no case was the railway company held responsible.

Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs

St. Mary's Troop and Pack will hold a concert in the auditorium of the Lamson Street School on Friday, November 30. Parents and friends are requested to attend and give their support to the enterprise and encourage the Cubs and Scouts in this effort.

At this meeting Scoutmaster Forrester made several important announcements. First, the Cub Scouts are to be organized into packs, each pack leader in turn, with the aid of his patrol if he wished, was to draw up a programme to be used at meetings. After being approved by the S.M. it was to be posted on the notice board to be carried out at the particular meeting. Second, that each patrol leader was to be made responsible for some particular thing; they could be assisted by their patrol but the P.L.'s would be responsible. Then came inspection, a game, a very ingenious one, invented by one of the P.L.'s. Firemen's badges were then presented to both John Gornall and Geoffrey Rice-Jones.

ST. PAUL'S WOLF CUBS
St. Paul's Wolf Cub Pack held a very interesting ceremony at 7 o'clock Friday, November 23, when Colonel John A. Hall presented the pack with the Cub Scouts' flag. Closely following this came the first "going up" ceremony, when, after receiving their promises, Senior Sixer Alfred Ricketts received the banner for the pack, after which Colonel Hall spoke to the Cubs. He closely following this came the first "going up" ceremony, when, after receiving their promises, Senior Sixer Alfred Ricketts received the banner for the pack, after which Colonel Hall spoke to the Cubs. WOLF CUB NEWS
St. Mary's North—The last Pack meeting was in charge of Baloo Edwards and Cub Instructor John Gornall. With the help of the Sizers, the Cubs practised signalling, flag, and knots. Recruits Billy Gardner and Phillip Ballan have passed their Tenderpad tests and will be enrolled at the next meeting. All Cubs who have models for the competition are asked to bring them next Friday to Pack meeting.

North Quadra Pack—North Quadra Pack met on November 23 and were very pleased to have Akela Hilliard as a visitor. All the Cubs enjoyed the new game which she gave them, and the interesting yarn she told. Akela Sherwood was also a visitor and took several Cubs in their second star examination. Scout Geoffrey Redgrave, of St. Paul's Troop, has come into the Pack as Cub Instructor, together with his brother Scout Gordon Nicholl. Akela Spurr is very grateful for their help. All the Tenderpads are busy working for the first star, and Joe Fox has now passed his flag test as well as his knots. Cub John Hebdon passed his sheet bend knot. All Sizers and Seconders are working to help the Tenderpads open their first eye.

Oaklands Pack—Tony Grimstone took his promise and was welcomed into the Pack, and went into the Red Wolf Six. Jack Davey passed his book balancing and leapfrog tests. Dick Hale passed his book-balancing, which completed his tests for having his first eye opened, and at the close of the meeting received his first star. Cubs Archie and James Coult were both given their first year's service stars. The Cubs discussed and decided upon their Christmas good turn. The knotting, leapfrog and balloon games from the sports programme were taken up.

Fairfield Pack—Tom Hodnett and Jack Waldren passed the message test, one more step towards opening their second eye. Sixer Morris Waldren instructed the Tenderpads in ball catching. The recruits learned the law and the game knot, with Baloo. Akela took the second star Cubs in signalling. Two new recruits, Vincent Lerik and Billy Ride-wood, were welcomed and taken into the Red Six. A game of stalking Indians was very realistically played, also a game of hat and coat. Eleven Cubs took advantage of the swimming hour at the Crystal Garden on Saturday, and some made great efforts towards learning to swim. Third Victoria Pack—The last meeting, November 21, was a busy one, new recruits working hard to learn the law and promise so that they could be enrolled as Cubs at an early date. Cubs Laurence Macrae, David Slater, Gerard Hughes and Roy McKay are working for their second star. New recruits, Westley Marshall and Neil Fraser, and Akela Marshall and Akela, were welcomed into the Pack. Ball dribbling and pass-it were the games played. Acting Baloo Norman Phipps read the Cubs a short version of "Puss in Boots."

St. Paul's Pack—Victor Stuart, a new recruit, was enrolled and received into the Pack as a Wolf Cub, going into the Grey Wolves Six. Cub Instructors Neil Fraser and Akela Walker received their badges and all were given a lusty howl of welcome into the Pack. Games of dribble ball and kangaroo were played. Cub Jack Sievers was welcomed back after a vacation in Seattle.

St. Barnabas' Pack—St. Barnabas' Pack held its third meeting on Wednesday in the church schoolroom. Games of kangaroo, law game, and trains were played. St. Mary's South Pack—Cubs working for their second star were in fire lighting by Instructor Rice-Jones and in signalling by Instructor Marshall. Akela took the Tenderpads through their knots. Recruit Billy Potter reviewed his tenderpad subjects with Akela Sherwood, preparatory to taking his promise next week. The games played were the law game and clear decks.

Royal Oak Pack—Royal Oak had its last meeting with Akela Sherwood on Saturday, November 24. The Cubs talked over the possibility of meeting as usual on Saturday morning, and in signalling by Instructor Marshall. Akela took the Tenderpads through their knots. Recruit Billy Potter reviewed his tenderpad subjects with Akela Sherwood, preparatory to taking his promise next week. The games played were the law game and clear decks.

Production of Raw Furs In Canada Shows Gain

Encroachment of Civilization Upon Wild Lands of Country Offset by Rapid Spread of "Fur Farming" in Various Provinces

The production of raw furs continues to be a profitable industry for those engaged in it, whether trapper or fur farmer. The total value of the raw fur production of the Dominion for the season 1926-27 was $18,864,126, as compared with $15,072,244 in the previous year, the increase of 25 per cent being attributable to a general advance in the prices of furs. This total comprises the value of the pelts of fur-bearing animals taken by trappers and of those raised on fur farms, the steady advance of the fur-farming industry in accounting for a greater proportion of the annual production being noticeable. From about 3 per cent in 1920-21, the pelts of animals raised on fur farms accounted for 5 per cent of the year's production in 1925-26 and increased this to 6 per cent in 1926-27.

Ontario is the leading province of Canada in fur production, accounting for a value of $3,919,491, or 21 per cent of the total. Quebec and the Northwest Territories followed closely, the former with $3,065,327 and the latter $2,981,829, each being about 16 per cent of the total. Alberta with a value of $2,256,353 accounted for 12 per cent of the total production. British Columbia's value was $1,768,026, Saskatchewan's $1,621,436, and Manitoba's $1,618,368, each of these representing about 9 per cent of the total production. Prince Edward Island with $480,342, New Brunswick with $382,261, and Nova Scotia with $312,030, each accounted for approximately 2 per cent of the total. All the provinces showed increases in total values over the previous seasons with the exception of Manitoba, which registered a decrease.

INCREASE NOTED
The total number of pelts of all kinds marketed in the year was 4,289,233 as compared with 3,686,148 in the previous year, the increase in the total being due to an addition of 907,283 in the number of rabbit pelts and of 60,654 in the number of squirrel pelts. In Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick where fox farming is a leading industry, silver fox leads in order of value of raw fur production. In Quebec and British Columbia the beaver is first; in Ontario and the Prairie Provinces the muskrat leads; and in the Northwest Territories the white fox is the principal fur searer, while in the Yukon territory the lynx is supreme. Muskrat accounted for the greatest number of pelts with a total of 1,774,854, followed by rabbit 1,234,850, and ermine (weasel) with 493,146 and beaver 100,364 occupying third and fourth places respectively.

Muskrat similarly accounted for the greatest revenue, returning a total of $2,341,446, the average pelt being worth $1.88. Beaver occupied second place with a total of $2,292,871, the average price being $22.85, followed closely by white fox in third place with $2,237,076, with an average pelt value of $43.64. Other

DEMOCRACY NEEDS INTELLIGENT VOTE

Mr. C. Eden Quinton Speaks at Memorial Hall on "Education and Modern World"

"Education and the Modern World" was the subject of a lecture which Mr. C. Eden Quinton gave last evening in the Memorial Hall to an audience of moderate size. The speaker pointed out that democracy, exposed to the dangers of claptrap and inertia, depended for its success on an intelligent use of the franchise. A tremendous responsibility rested upon the young people, many of whom seemed to be drifting without an adequate sense of values.

Mr. Quinton expressed a fear that there was some danger of so-called educational experts being absorbed in the educational system, as such, that education itself was obscured. The high school, he thought, should be the educational limit for the majority, and for the comparative few the preparation for the university.

The place of the technical school was discussed. This should be parallel to the high school, and should offer the more practical and vocational subjects to students. The university, it was contended, should not be a sort of "filling station," but a place of research and of the cultivation of learning as such.

Amongst the educational fallacies were the attempt to eliminate mental discipline, overemphasis upon behaviorism and certain quack subjects. The teacher's personality was named as the key to the solution of the problem. A dead teacher could only succeed in producing dead students.

Mr. B. C. Nicholas was a sympathetic chairman, and was accorded a hearty vote of thanks, moved by Dean Quinton, who spoke of the debt which the new cathedral owed to the help and hospitality of the press.

You've seen beads of moisture condense inside cold windows
..like "WET" gasoline
in a cold motor

It doesn't take many cold mornings to find your oil with condensed water gasoline that runs down the cylinder walls. Here is an example—oil that has condensed in less than five hundred miles of running!

With Shell 400, the "dry" gas, you can often run a full thousand miles and have less than 10% gasoline in your oil—not enough to seriously damage it!

MOIST AIR, when it hits cold glass condenses and runs in droplets down the inside of the window. In just the same manner "wet" gasoline—not wet with water but with heavy petroleum compounds—condenses in the manifold, on the piston head, the cylinder walls.

You pull out the choke and spin the starter; "wet" gasoline mixed with air floods into the motor and runs down into your oil. In five hundred miles of cold weather driving your oil is very apt to be fifty or sixty per cent gasoline! What a waste of oil and fuel!

Starting troubles—battery strain—delay. You've doubtless accepted them as necessary evils of winter. They are, if you use "wet" gasoline; even the so-called winter quality of "wet" gasolines. What you need—and thanks to exact refining you may have it now—is a "dry" gas. Shell 400, the "dry" gas stays vaporized. It goes "dry" into your motor, starts instantly, burns more cleanly, more completely in the cold engine.

Shell 400, the "dry" gas, costs you no more than "wet" gasolines. All yellow and red Shell pumps contain it. No other Shell gasoline is sold. If you wish to protect your oil against disastrous thinning, to convert all your gasoline into power and miles you'll want Shell 400. And knowing in addition that Shell 400 will solve your starting problems you'll insist upon it every time you fill the tank.

QUICK STARTING

SHELL 400 The "DRY" GAS

And about oil: Tied up motors have no room for the harmful of hard carbon an old low-compression engine might hold. Shell Motor Oil is a fine new lubricant which burns only 1/4 to 1/2 as much carbon as even the costliest oils—and hard carbon, only a little fluffy soot that blows away

All About Santa Claus

Who Is Coming to
Spencer's Toyland
Saturday

With a Great Parade

A large department of the Kingdom of Christmas is the Post Office. This is the work of the Goblins who live in the knotholes of the trees. It is just possible you may have surprised one and caught a glimpse of him some time when walking through the woods. They have very round eyes which shine quite green, wrinkled brown faces, fat round tummies and long skinny arms and legs.

These little men make lists of all the children Santa Claus is to visit on Christmas Eve; and against the name of every boy and girl are good marks or bad marks. Of course, there must be more good marks than bad before anyone can expect their stockings to be filled.

Letters to Santa Claus should be most carefully written with the help of some grown-up, and if you have been very good, you are almost sure to get what you want. The safest way of getting your letter to Santa is to bring it down to Toyland yourself and mail it in the Toyland Letter Box for Santa Claus.

Father Christmas himself will soon be in Toyland now, for already he has left his Northern home. If the day is particularly cold, stop a minute and listen, for you may hear the tinkle of his sleigh bells carried to us by the cold North wind.
